It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

WORK OF THE BOARD FROM APRIL 1ST, 1891, TO JANUARY 1ST, 1895.

After the First, Second and Third Reports were printed and submitted to the Legislature, a copy of each of the reports containing a copy of the act of 1891, creating the State Board of Taxation, with the rules, recommendations and workings of the Board since its creation in April, 1891, was sent to each Assessor and Collector throughout the State, and the entire editions of eight thousand copies of each report were distributed, upon application and otherwise, to the press and citizens of New Jersey. The reports showing somewhat in detail the method and plan of work pursued by the Board, the work and results of the various Assessors throughout the State in valuing and listing property for the purpose of taxation, were commented upon at some length, not only by the press of New Jersey and sister States, but by a large number of citizens and organizations, by letter and personal interviews with the individual members of the State Board. It is gratifying to the Board to be able to state, and a source of much encouragement for the faithful and conservative performance of our sometimes delicate, intricate and perplexing duties, that the trend of comment by the press and citizens of New Jersey was commendatory and encouraging, and that the work of the Board was directed in the right direction, with a view not only of aiding the Assessors in the performance of their duties, but in the correction of those grave abuses in the administration and enforcement of the Tax laws of New Jersey from which grew the legislation creating the State Board of Taxation, on March 19th, 1891.

The same plan and method of conducting the business of the Board have been pursued the past year as in previous years as was stated in the last report, viz :

In addition to such stated meetings of the Board, the State Board of Taxation the past year has pursued the same method as in the previous years and as stated in the First, Second and Third Annual Reports, viz., meetings by the individual members have been held with the assessors in the various parts of the State, and complaints calling for special investigation have been made from time to time throughout the various parts of the State by single members of the Board as provided for in the said act of the Legislature creating the State Board of Taxation, and in addition thereto special meetings have been held by the Board for consultation, deciding the appeals, formulating the judgments, and in some cases personally inspecting the property under investigation, mapping out the work to be pursued, sending answers to the correspondence received by the Board, which has been voluminous from the Assessors and others, preparing the Annual Report, and attending to routine business details.

INCREASING THE MEMBERSHIP OF THE STATE BOARD OF TAXATION BY THE SUPPLEMENT OF MAY 17TH, 1894. (P. L. 1894, P. 403).

At the last session of the Legislature, viz., that of 1894, the Legislature passed an important supplement to the act creating the State Board of Taxation. This supplement aimed at three objects and embodied three distinct principles, viz.:

First. Increasing the membership of the Board from three members to four.

Second. Providing that hereafter only two of the members of the State Board of Taxation should be appointed from the same political party, thereby making it non-partisan in its political personnel.

Third. Giving the State Board of Taxation power to increase assessments which was expressly withheld in the original act. The language of this supplement is as follows :

§ 3. "That when the said Board has reason to believe from information or otherwise, that any property has been assessed at a lower rate than is consistent with the purpose of securing uniform and true valuation of property for the purpose of taxation, the said Board shall have power after due investigation to increase the assessment made upon such property ; and if for this purpose it becomes necessary to direct an assessor or other taxing officer to make a re-assessment of such property according to the rules which the said Board shall establish, it shall do so ; and if such assessor or taxing officers shall fail or refuse to comply with the order so given, the Board shall have power to appoint some other person to make the new assessment under the direction of the Board, and the assessment so made and affirmed by the Board shall be deemed to be the assessment of such property for the year." (P. L. 1894, page 403, approved May 17th, 1894.)

The work of the Board and its practical effect under the statute will be referred to at some length in a subsequent part of this report.

Governor Werts nominated to the Senate on May 18th, Hon. Henry J. West, of Gloucester, Camden County, and the Senate unanimously confirmed Mr. West as a member of the State Board of Taxation, thereby making the membership four instead of three as heretofore. Mr. West immediately, upon his confirmation by the Senate, took his seat in the councils and conferences of the Board and assumed the duties incident to a member of the State Board of Taxation and commenced the hearing of appeals at the session of the Board held in Jersey City on May 29th, 1894, and since then has performed his duties as a member of the State Board of Taxation. The members of the Board, at the time of Mr. West's appointment, feel a pleasure, as well as a duty, in publicly stating in this report to the Legislature, that Mr. West has brought to the Councils of the Board a courtesy and tact in disposing of the business of the Board as well as patience and fairness in hearing both sides of complaints and alleged grievances, which have given additional public confidence to the decisions and conclusions of the State Board of Taxation.

EQUALIZATION OF COUNTY AND SCHOOL TAX.

The Board in this report wishes again to emphasize what was said in the last report at pages 15, 17, 18: That the State Board of Taxation is a tribunal in which the action of the taxing officers of any taxing district, such as the County Board of Assessors of a county, the County Boards of Equalization or that of any municipality or township, can be reviewed quickly, cheaply and effectively in the equitable distribution of the State School (so called) and County Tax, as being a new remedy in the scheme of taxation in New Jersey; that by certiorari to the Supreme Court being inadequate to redress or even reach this class of cases.

The cases under this class, as mentioned at page 81 of the last report, viz., the appeal of the city of New Brunswick against the township of Woodbridge, Madison and East Brunswick, and the judgment then rendered by the Board was taken by certiorari to the Supreme Court and the principal legal question involved before the Supreme Court was that all the taxing districts in the county of Middlesex should have been made parties to the proceedings before the State Board. The Supreme Court dismissed the writ of certiorari brought by East Brunswick, the taxing district against which the judgment of the State Board was rendered. Mr. Justice Reed read the opinion of the Court. A copy of the opinion of the Supreme Court will be found in full hereto annexed. The judgment of the Supreme Court was taken by a writ of error to the Court of Errors and Appeals for review, which in turn was affirmed by that Court.

These decisions are important in their legal effect upon the work of the State Board of Taxation, and as bearing directly upon those points which the State Board of Taxation has always considered the most beneficial features of the act creating the State Board of Taxation.

NEW JERSEY SUPREME COURT.

THE STATE, THE INHABITANTS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF EAST BRUNSWICK, vs.
THE MAYOR AND COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

Prosecutors,

Syllabus.

A township, the valuation of whose property has been raised by the State Board of Taxation, cannot prosecute a writ of certiorari to set aside the action of the Board, on the ground that the Board has not made a proper resulting abatement in the tax of other townships, but has improperly allowed the entire abatemens to one taxing district.

A petition was presented by the city of New Brunswick to the State Board of Taxation.

It set out that the taxable property in that city had been assessed at its true value for the year 1893. That the taxable property in the townships of Woodbridge, of Madison and of East Brunswick had, for the same year, been assessed at less than its true value. That thereby the city was compelled to pay more than its proportion of county and State school tax.

A hearing was had before the Board, at which the four municipalities appeared by counsel.

The Board found that the property in East Brunswick has been assessed at eighty per cent. of its true value, and that the property in the other municipalities had been assessed at its true value.

It was ordered that an amount equal to twenty per cent. of the assessment for county and State school tax be added to the value of the property in East New Brunswick. This amount was ordered to be deducted from the amount which the city of New Brunswick would have been compelled to raise as its proportion, under the un-revised assessment.

The orders thus made are brought up for review by the present writ.

Argued at February term, before Justices Depue and Reed.

A. H. Strong for prosecutor.

R. Adrain for city of New Brunswick.

The opinion of the Court was delivered by Reed, J.

The substantial reasons urged against the validity of these orders are—

First. That the Board should, in reaching its conclusion, have compared the duplicates and the valuations in every taxing district in the county.

Second. That the order gives to the city of New Brunswick the entire benefit of the increase in valuation of property in East Brunswick, while it should have been distributed among all the taxing districts in the county.

In respect to first point, viewed as an abstract question, it would, I think, have been proper to have summoned all the municipalities in the county. The adjustment of proportions involves all those taxing districts which may be affected by it, and a consideration of each duplicate is essential as a foundation for fixing the share of any.

If a request had been made by any of the parties to the Board that this course should be taken, or an objection had been interposed against proceeding until all were before the Board, I have no doubt this course would have been taken. In the absence of any such objection we have the right to assume, as the Board had, that the assessments in the other townships were made according to law, and the property therein was rated at its true value.

In respect to the second point, the order was erroneous.

Assuming that all the townships, other than East Brunswick, stood in the same attitude as the city of New Brunswick, and that the property was assessed at its true value, each was entitled to an abatement on account of the increase imposed upon East Brunswick. The abatement should have been made proportionally among them all, along with the city.

If one of these townships was prosecuting this writ it would be difficult to see how the order could be sustained.

But the prosecutor is the township of East Brunswick and in this that township had no concern whatever. Whether the city or the townships receive the benefit of the twenty per cent. increase of the valuation of the property of the prosecutor it does not affect the prosecutor in the least. In either event its tax is the same.

The writ is dismissed.

Affirmed on error by the Court of Errors and Appeals for the opinion of the Court of Errors and Appeals by Mr. Justice Magie. [See the Appendix.]

The city of Hoboken filed an appeal against the city of Jersey City, in which the city of Hoboken complained of an injustice done the city of Hoboken by the action of the County Board of Commissioners of Appeal in cases of taxation for the county of Hudson at its annual meeting held in July, eighteen hundred and ninety-four.

It will be remembered, that the county of Hudson is the only county in the State where such a Board exists, and it takes the place and supersedes the annual meeting of the County Assessors in the other counties. The act creating this Board was approved April 4th, 1873, P. L. 1873, page 794. The members of this Board are appointed by the Judges of the Circuit Court and the Court of Common Pleas of the county of Hudson. One of the objects as expressed in this legislative enactment was the equalizing assessments in the municipalities of Hudson county. The power granted to this Board is broad and comprehensive in purpose. It is ample to accomplish the purpose desired; how well and efficient this Board has performed its duty in the past is best shown from the fact that in our first annual report, page 47, after an investigation of the assessments as made in Hudson county, it was reported that "the assessments in this county lack uniformity and equality, not only among the various taxing districts, ranging from one-third to about eighty per cent. of its true value;" the failure to equalize these assessments in Hudson county in the past by this Board has been due to two causes—first, a disinclination on the part of the individuals composing the Board to do the requisite work necessary to accomplish positive results in such a complicated subject of equalization of assessments in a county as large as Hudson. Second, the fact that the members of the Board have shown heretofore an unwillingness to impose more or additional values on the municipality in which they happen to reside. These points are mentioned here for the purpose of showing the inherent difficulties of enforcing and administering the Tax laws of this State under any system in operation.

It is only proper and just to state that this Board the past few years has been showing a desire, by positive and energetic work, to compel the assessors in this county to do their duty and to bring about an equalization of assessments in the county. The evidence, as furnished before the State Board at its sessions for the purpose of hearing this appeal at Hoboken and Jersey City, showed that the County Board of Commissioners of Appeal the last year set out with a firm purpose of compelling derelict assessors to do their duty and of equalizing the assessments in this county. Mr. Alexander McLean, a member of that Board, was sworn as a witness before the State Board, and he gave in detail and with accuracy the means and methods employed of ascertaining whether the assessments as returned by the assessors were assessed at the constitutional standard of "true value" or at a less percentage, and at what percentage, the means taken to verify their conclusions and the results arrived at, together with the action taken by that Board in the premises.

The State Board of Taxation takes pleasure in stating that if the work of this Board is prosecuted from year to year along the lines testified to by Mr. McLean, with the same intelligent methods, fullness of detail and accuracy, accompanied by firm and impartial support from the members of that Board, inequality in the assessments in the county of Hudson will disappear.

The State Board of Taxation found, on the facts presented to it and by a personal inspection and view of some of the properties in each municipality, that the action of the County Board of Equalization—imposing five per cent. on the city of Hoboken, so that the valuations were increased from $23,570,660 to $24,749,193, on which the county and State school tax should be raised—did not do the city of Hoboken an injustice and this Board dismissed the Appeal, being an increase in the ratables of the city of Hoboken of $1,178,533, which will be observed is an increase of five per cent. only on the amount of the ratables as returned by the assessor of the city of Hoboken, which, in turn, was estimated to be at a percentage less than "true value" and not an increase of five per cent., based on what the sum total of the "true value" of all the ratables in the city of Hoboken would be equal to.

The increase in value of the ratables upon that returned by the assessors by the County Board, since its creation to the present year, is as follows :

IMPORTANT CASES BEFORE THE BOARD SINCE THE LAST REPORT.

A case of wide public interest before the Board was that of the Passaic Water Company, referred to in the last annual report at page 19, where the briefs of the respective counsel are printed in full. This case involved the principle whether the Legislature had authorized the taxation of the franchise of corporations by the local or municipal authorities for local purposes. This point was reserved by the State Board of Taxation for the purpose of having it passed upon by the Supreme Court. It will be observed that the principle therein involved is not the abstract one, whether or not franchisees are property, or whether the Legislature has the power to tax such property, but whether the Legislature has actually authorized the local authorities to tax the franchises of corporations. The first questions have been answered in the affirmative not only by the United States Supreme Court, in the case of State Railroad Tax Cases, 92 U. S. 575, and other cases in the same court as well as in the State courts, viz., that the Legislature has the power and has authorized the taxation of the franchises of railroad corporations under the act of 1884, creating the State Board of Assessors, as may be seen from the case in our Court of Errors and Appeals, reported in 19 Vroom 283.

But in the Passaic Water Company the Supreme Court held, the opinion being delivered by Mr. Justice Dixon, that the mere franchises of corporations are not taxable under the Tax act of 1866 (Rev., p. 1150), or section 105 of the Corporation act (Rev., p. 196; Sup. Rev., p. 170), and the assessment of $500,000 assessed by the assessors of the city of Paterson against the Passaic Water Company for the year 1894 was accordingly set aside by the Supreme Court as null and void. This case, having been promulgated so recently, and being of such general application throughout the State, the opinion of Mr. Justice Dixon is here given in full for the information and guidance of assessors throughout the State and citizens interested in the subject.

NEW JERSEY SUPREME COURT,
February Term, 1894.

STATE (THE PASSAIC WATER COMPANY, Prosecutor,) vs. THE MAYOR AND ALDERMEN OF THE CITY OF PATERSON.	} Certi matri.
---	-------------------------------------

The mere franchises of corporations are not taxable under the Tax Act of 1866 (Rev., p. 1150), on Section 105 of the Corporation Act (Rev., p. 196; Rev. Supp. p. 170).

Argued February term, 1894, before Justices Abbott and Dixon, on the following statement of facts, by Mr. Griggs for Prosecutor,

Mr. Simonton for Defendant.

FIRST—The Commissioners of Assessment of Taxes of the city of Paterson, in the course of their duties in rating for taxation real and personal property of the city of Paterson for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-three, made an assessment upon all the taxable real estate of the Passaic Water Company, situate in said city, and in addition thereto did rate and assess the water pipes and street hydrants of the prosecutor which were laid under the surface of the streets of said city, or erected and maintained along said streets, and did also rate and value the corporate franchise of the said Company, and did make an assessment upon said valuation in one assessment termed "Specials," said valuation of water pipes, hydrants and corporate franchise being the sum of five hundred thousand dollars, and said assessment being in the form indicated upon the tax bill hereto annexed, which shall be taken as a part of this return.

STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

SECOND—That the true taxable value of said water pipes and hydrants was two hundred and eighty thousand dollars, and the valuation upon said franchise was two hundred and twenty thousand dollars, which said sums together made up the said valuation of five hundred thousand dollars.

THIRD—The Passaic Water Company is a corporation of this State, formed pursuant to the provisions of an act of the Legislature, entitled, "An Act to Incorporate the Passaic Water Company," approved February 13th, 1849, which said act and the several supplements thereto as printed in the pamphlet laws of this State shall be deemed a part of this state of the case without further citation.

FOURTH—The proceedings of the Commissioners of Assessment of the city of Paterson, in the making of the said assessment shall be deemed and taken to have been regular as to time and method of procedure provided by law.

FIFTH—The questions raised by the Prosecutor in objection to the tax relate only to the validity of the tax upon the valuation of two hundred and twenty thousand dollars upon the corporate franchise of the Prosecutor. The value of said franchise is not in question as excessive.

The opinion of the Court was delivered by Dixon, J.

The question presented in this case is, whether our general laws authorize municipalities to levy taxes upon mere corporate franchises.

That such franchises are taxable as property is settled by the judgment in State Board of Assessors v. Central Railroad Company, 19 Vroom 146; but whether they are included among the subjects of municipal taxation, is another question, dependent upon the proper construction of the laws delegating the taxing power to municipal bodies.

The defendant in support of the present tax, first invokes the act of 1866 (Rev., p. 1150), the second section of which enacts that all real and personal estate, whether owned by individuals or corporations, shall be liable to taxation.

The form of expression adopted in this enactment suggests, I think, that it was designed to reach only those species of property which were usually owned both by individuals and by corporations, and that other species, such as offices, which are owned by individuals almost exclusively, and franchises, which are owned by corporations almost exclusively, were not within the purview of the law. This suggestion is strengthened by the third section, which declares: that the term "real estate" shall be construed to include all lands, all water-power thereon or appurtenant thereto, and all buildings and erections thereon or affixed to the same, trees and underwood growing thereon, and all mines, quarries, peat and marl beds, and all fisheries; and that the term "personal estate" shall be construed to include goods and chattels of every description, including steamboats and other vessels, money, debts due or owing from solvent debtors, * * * public stocks and stocks in corporations. Every sort of property thus enumerated is commonly owned both by individuals and by corporations.

It seems reasonable also to regard this specification of the kinds of property which are to be included in the terms "real estate" and "personal estate," as a definition of those terms, although that is not strictly required by the words of the act. Such has, I think, been its construction in practice, and such seems to be the force attributed to it in the opinions delivered in this Court, and the Court of Errors, in Pipe Line Company v. Berry, 23 Vroom 308, 24 Vroom 212. So construed, corporate franchises are excluded, for among the particulars named there is none under which they can be placed.

Even if this specification be not deemed a strict definition, yet there is a strong probability that if in framing this law the Legislature had intended to render corporate franchises liable to tax, so important an item would have been expressly mentioned in the detailed description of the subjects of taxation. Its omission from the list indicates its exclusion from the scheme.

In our judgment mere corporate franchises are not taxable under this law.

It is further urged that they can be taxed under section 105 of the act concerning corporations (Rev., p. 196; Rev. Sup., p. 170), which provides that the real and personal estate of every corporation shall be taxed the same as the real and personal estate of an individual.

This language, however, corresponds so closely with the phraseology of the act of 1866 in describing the subjects of taxation, as to compel the conclusion that the same subjects were intended by each. Such an interpretation harmonizes with the decision in Jersey City Gaslight Company v. Jersey City, 17 Vroom 194, where the general expressions of section 105 were limited by the provisions of the act of 1866.

Our conclusion is, therefore, that the tax on the value of the corporate franchise is illegal, and should be set aside with costs.

On the principles laid down in People v. Cussey, 46 N. Y. 46; Smith v. The Mayor, 63 N. Y. 552, and Pipe Line Company v. Berry, ubi supra, it would seem that the prosecutor was possessed, not only of corporate franchises, but also of an estate in the land where its pipes and hydrants were located, and that this estate was assessable as real estate under the act of 1866. But according to the stipulation, we must suppose that an assessment was levied upon the real estate, outside of the $220,000, which is agreed upon as the value of the franchise. If this supposition be wrong, the parties may be heard on a motion to change the stipulation.

Another case involving a dispute between two counties, viz., Warren and Hunterdon, or more correctly speaking, between two townships of different counties, which was passed upon by the Supreme Court, was that of The Warren Manufacturing Company v. Frederick A. Dalrymple, Collector of the township of Holland, Hunterdon county, and The Warren Manufacturing Company v. David C. Donnelly, Collector of the township of Pahatcong, Warren county. The Supreme Court held—

First. Warren Manufacturing Company v. Warford, Collector, 8 Vroom 397, followed.

Second. The supplement to the Tax Act passed May 11, 1886 (Rev. Supp. p. 981), re-enacted March 30, 1892 (P. L. 1892, p. 378), is special, and therefore unconstitutional.

Third. Raw material necessary for the manufacture of paper, paper in the process of manufacture, and manufactured paper, being visible personal estate, must, under the act of March 19, 1891 (P. L. 1891, p. 189), be assessed for taxes in the township, ward or taxing district where the same is found.

With the exception of the second point, the conclusion of the Supreme Court affirmed the conclusion of the State Board of Taxation. The State Board of Taxation followed the act of March 30, 1892 (P. L. 1892, p. 378). The Supreme Court declares that act unconstitutional. It is unnecessary to state that it is not within the province of the State Board of Taxation to declare the acts of the Legislature unconstitutional, even though they might so consider them. It is our duty to follow the law as enacted by the Legislature and as construed by the courts. This case, in turn, has been taken by a writ of error to the Court of Errors and Appeals for review.

POWER AFTER DUE INVESTIGATION TO INCREASE ASSESSMENTS
UNDER THE ACT OF 1894.

As has been stated, the Legislature at its last session passed a supplement to the act creating the State Board of Taxation, by which power was given to the Board "from information or otherwise" that any property has been assessed at a lower rate than is consistent with the purpose of securing uniform and true valuation of property for purpose of taxation, and, "after due investigation to increase the assessment made upon such property," and for that purpose the Board may direct the assessors to make a re-assessment of such property or appoint some other person to make the new assessment of such property, and the assessment so made and affirmed by the Board shall be deemed to be the assessment of such property for the year. The full text of this act may be read in the appendix to this report, or in P. L. 1894, p. 403, approved May 17th, 1894.

It will be observed by even a cursory reading of this statute that it is most comprehensive in its terms; that upon first reflection it would hardly seem that the Legislature intended to clothe the State Board of Taxation with such unlimited power and discretion; that, as a practical question in the exercise of this power conferred, it would be a work of unlimited labor, if not an impossible task, for the Board to attempt to supervise and increase all assessments throughout the State wherever it "had reason to believe from information or otherwise" that any property had been assessed at a lower rate than is consistent with the purpose of securing uniform and true valuation of property for the purpose of taxation. Indeed, it is a fact, as has been repeatedly stated in the reports of this Board, and as everybody knows who has given the assessments of property in New Jersey the slightest attention, that there are but few taxing districts in which property is assessed at the constitutional standard of "true value," that the State Board of Taxation has been engaged the past four years in securing uniform valuations, even though they have not been at true value; in fact, it was the system by which assessors did assess property in the same taxing district at different rates of percentage, such as thirty, forty, fifty, sixty, seventy per cent. of its true value as accident or personal influence might dictate the result, which prompted the Legislature to pass the act creating the State Board of Taxation. The Supreme Court having held that unless the property brought before that court for review by certiorari was assessed in excess of the true value, the owner had no redress under the law, even though all other property in that taxing district might be assessed at one-half or even one-third of its true value ; this process of equalization by the State Board of Taxation has been effected by taking the general average of the assessments in the taxing district where the property is located and squaring the assessment of the property complained of with the general average of the assessments in that taxing district.

Some of the questions suggested by the act of 1894, by which assessments may be increased, are these : " Shall all the assessments in a taxing district be brought to the general average by increasing some and decreasing others ? " " Shall they all be brought to the standard of true value ? " and if one or the other of these results should be attempted by the State Board of Taxation, does it not seem that the task thus set before the State Board is impossible or impracticable ? The details of such a labor would be endless and bewildering. Shall the board start in this pursuit without a complaint or some one aggrieved ? And if so, how shall the information necessary for such results be obtained by the State Board of Taxation—from a personal view, by accident or from hearsay ? Who is to pay for the expense ? Shall all the assessments as made by the assessors be disturbed ? And if so, within what time must it be done ? Shall taxes be paid and then owners of property find that they have had some of their taxes remitted by reason of too high valuations, and others that additional taxes have been imposed by the State Board of Taxation ? The State Board of Taxation has thought that this grant of power to the Board should be construed in a conservative spirit ; that uniform assessments should be effected gradually by decreasing and increasing assessments ; that notice should be first given to all parties sought to be affected ; that such parties should have an opportunity to be heard, and that would be the " due investigation " by which the power given by the Legislature to the Board was intended to be exercised ; that the information preceding the " due investigation " need not necessarily come from a formal complaint, but may come from any source which satisfies the Board that a " due investigation " should be instituted.

The State Board of Taxation respectfully suggests and reports to the Legislature that the power thus given to the State Board of Taxation is capable of being made the means of wide public benefit ; that it should be exercised in a conservative spirit and with a cautious discretion ; that it should be futher defined and circumscribed by the Legislature, and that some specific means and methods should be provided for the exercise of this power other than what is contained in the general act granting the power.

A case of importance under this act arose the past year in the county of Sussex, the County Board of that county, at its annual meeting, being dissatisfied with certain assessments as levied by the assessor of Hardyston township, Mr. Horace E. Rude, in that township, against the property of The Sterling Zinc and Iron Company; The Lehigh Zinc and Iron Company; The New Jersey Zinc and Iron Company, of their property located in that township for the year 1894, and being unable to agree among themselves, appointed a committee to lay these assessments before the State Board of Taxation, which they did by a resolution.

The State Board of Taxation considered that from this committee and the resolution of the County Board of Sussex county that it "had reason to believe" from such information, that such property might have been assessed at a lower rate than was consistent with the purpose of securing uniform and true valuation in that township and county. The Board appointed September 25th, 1894, at the court house in the town of Newton, when the Board would hear any facts or statements that might be alleged for or against these assessments. The assessor and the parties sought to be affected were notified of this intended meeting; such meeting was held at that time; the assessor, Mr. Horace E. Rude; the committee of the County Board of Assessors, Messrs. Charles D. Thompson, John E. Emery, Thomas Kays, Charles E. Roe, attorneys, representing the said companies and the committee of the County Board, appeared before the State Board of Taxation and made objections and urged reasons for and against the power of the Board to proceed in the premises under this statute. The State Board of Taxation decided that it had power to proceed, and in the performance of its duty under this statute, it was necessary to proceed, and with that end and purpose in view directed the assessor, Mr. Horace E. Rude, to make a re-assessment of said properties, according to the rule prescribed in the said order, and file the schedule of such re-assessment with the State Board of Taxation within ten days from its date, which was done, after which the Board directed that on the 25th of October, 1894, the Board should personally view and inspect said properties, and give all parties in interest an opportunity to be heard and produce evidence before the State Board of Taxation at a meeting to be held at Newton on Thursday, October 25th, 1894, at ten o'clock, after which the Board took time to consider the same, and decided on November 8th, 1894, to confirm the assessments of The Sterling Zinc and Iron Company and The New Jersey Zinc and Iron Company, as made, and to impose an increase in value of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) on the property of The Lehigh Zinc and Iron Company, located in that township, as being just.

Copies of the orders made in this case are hereto annexed for detailed information concerning those assessments.

YEAR EIGHTEEN HUNDRED AND NINETY-FOUR.

It appearing to the State Board of Taxation that dissatisfaction exists with the assessments as made, levied and returned to the County Board of Assessors, in the County of Sussex, by the Assessors of the townships of Hardyston and Sparta, in said county, against the New Jersey Zinc and Iron Company, The Sterling Zinc and Iron Company, The Passaic Zinc and Iron Company, and The Lehigh Zinc and Iron Company, of their property, real and personal, located in said townships, subject to taxation for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four.

And it further appearing that the State Board of Taxation, under the act of the Legislature entitled "A General Act Concerning Taxes," approved March 19th, 1891, and the supplements thereto, has power to direct the Assessors to make a re-assessment of said property, and after hearing the arguments of John E. Emery, Charles D. Thompson, Thomas D. Kays and Charles J. Roe, attorneys, appearing before the said Board and arguing for and against the making of such order for a re-assessment of said properties, it is on this second day of October, A. D. eighteen hundred and ninety-four, ordered and decreed, by the State Board of Taxation, that the said Assessors of Hardyston and Sparta townships, in the county of Sussex, make a re-assessment of said properties by filing with this Board, within ten days from the service upon them of this order, a schedule of the property and its true value, both real and personal, of said companies located in their respective townships, and the amounts assessed against them, each of them respectively, for the year 1894; that in making said schedule of the said property, real and personal, the said Assessors observe the following rule and specify particularly, first, the number of acres of land held or owned by each of said companies in their respective townships, specifying the nature of such lands, whether meadow, arable, woodland, or mineral lands, and the number of acres of each kind and the amount of such assessment of each kind of land; second, the improvements of said land, specifying the nature of such improvements, such as buildings, mines, quarries, machinery, furnaces, and any other improvements, and the value and the amount of such assessments; third, the personal property, its nature, and the amount assessed against each company for such personal property; fourth, whether other property in said township has been assessed for the year 1894 at its true value or a percentage of such value, and if so, at what percentage.

It is further ordered, that after such schedule is filed with this Board, that the said Board of Taxation personally view and inspect said properties, and fix a day and time and place at which all persons in interest may be heard and produce such evidence as they may desire before the said State Board of Taxation.

And it is further ordered, that a copy of this order be served on the Assessors of Hardyston and Sparta townships, in the county of Sussex, on John E. Emory, of Newark; Charles D. Thompson, of Jersey City; Thomas Kays and Charles Roe, of Newton, within three days from this date.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY.
THE STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ASSESSMENTS OF HARDYSTON TOWNSHIP, IN THE COUNTY OF SUSSEX, FOR THE YEAR
EIGHTEEN HUNDRED AND NINETY-FOUR (1894).

Order Confirming and Increasing Assessments.

The State Board of Education, by an order bearing date of the second day of October, eighteen hundred and ninety-four (1894), under and by virtue of an act of the Legislature of New Jersey entitled "A general act concerning taxes," approved March nineteenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, and the supplements thereto, ordered and decreed that the Assessor of Hardyston township, in the county of Sussex, make a re-assessment of the real and personal property of the New Jersey Zinc and Iron Company, the Sterling Zinc and Iron Company and the Lehigh Zinc and Iron Company, located in said township and county, within ten days from the date of service upon him of such an order, by filing a schedule of such property and its true value with the State Board of Taxation, according to the rule promulgated in said order, and such schedule of re-assessment as made by the said Assessor having been made and filed with the State Board of Taxation on the fifteenth day of October last passed, made in pursuance of the said order for re-assessment, bearing date of the second day of October last passed, and the said State Board of Taxation having, by an order bearing the date of the sixteenth day of October last past, after reading and filing the said schedules of re-assessment, ordered that the State Board of Taxation personally view and inspect the property of the New Jersey Zinc and Iron Company, the Sterling Zinc and Iron Company and the Lehigh Zinc and Iron Company, located in the township of Hardyston, Sussex county, on the twenty-fourth day of October last past, and in said order it is further ordered that a meeting of the said State Board of Taxation be held at the Court House, in the town of Newton, in the county of Sussex, on Thursday, the twenty-fifth day of October last past, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to hear by way of appeal or otherwise whatever may be affirmed or objected to in relation to said assessments, schedule and re-assessments for taxes for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four (1894) against said companies.

And it further appearing that the said State Board of Taxation did, on the twenty-fourth day of October last past, personally view and inspect said property, and did, on the twenty-fifth day of October last past, hold such meeting at the time and place therein mentioned according to the order so made, and it further appearing to the said Board that the order so made having been first served as therein provided, and proof of such service having been made to the satisfaction of the said Board, and it further appearing that at the meeting of said Board, held at Newton, on the twenty-fifth day of October last past, in pursuance of said order, that Charles D. Thompson, attorney, representing The Sterling Zinc and Iron Company and The Lehigh Zinc and Iron Company, and Thomas N. McCarter, attorney, representing the New Jersey Zinc and Iron Company, were heard by said Board at such meeting, and given an opportunity to be heard, and given such evidence as they desired before said Board, and evidence having been produced at such meeting concerning the true value of such properties.

And the said State Board of Taxation having personally viewed and inspected such property, in accordance with the said order, and having considered the evidence produced before said Board and the arguments of the attorneys appearing before said Board at said time;

It is, on this eighth day of November, eighteen hundred and ninety-four (1894), ordered, adjudged and decreed by the said State Board of Taxation, under and by virtue of the statutes in such case made and provided, that the re-assessments and schedules of the property of The Sterling Zinc and Iron Company and The New Jersey Zinc and Iron Company, of their property, located in the township of Hardyston, in the county of Sussex, for assessment of taxes for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four (1894), are in all things confirmed. And that the assessment of the property of The Lehigh Zinc and Iron Company, of its property located in Hardyston township, in the county of Sussex, for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four (1894), of sixty thousand dollars ($60,000.00), as appears by said schedule and re-assessment, be increased to the sum of eighty-five thousand dollars ($85,000.00) for taxation for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four (1894).

And it is further ordered that this order be certified to the Collector of Hardyston township, county of Sussex, within five days from this date, and it is further ordered that a copy of this order be served within five days upon Charles D. Thompson, attorney for The Sterling Zinc and Iron Company and The Lehigh Zinc and Iron Company, and Thomas N. McCarter, attorney for the New Jersey Zinc and Iron Company, Horace E. Rude, Assessor of Hardyston township.

State Board of Taxation.

THOS. B. USHER, Clerk.

The two cases, viz., The Passaic Zinc and Iron Company and The New Jersey Zinc and Iron Company, of their property located in Sparta township, as assessed by the Assessor, Mr. Charles Halsey, as shown by the within schedule for the year, 1894. An appeal has been filed by those two companies with the Board, asking a reduction in those assessments on the ground that the assessments are in excess of the "true value" of the property located or owned by them in that township. These cases at the writing of this report are undisposed of by the Board.

The schedules of re-assessments and the order confirming and increasing the re-assessment against one company requires a word of explanation on one point, viz.: "Zinc mine on said farm," assessed at $144,000; "mining plant," assessed at $9,000; "zinc mine," assessed at $54,000, it will be observed that in the assessing of the land, houses, buildings, shops, offices, boilers, machinery, &c., there was no difficulty in placing an approximately accurate value upon the same, either by the Assessor, Mr. Horace E. Rude, or by the State Board of Taxation, after a personal view and inspection of such property, by practical common-sense rules, which will square with substantial justice the values placed upon this class of property mentioned in the schedules, will be found to be reasonably exact; but on the other items mentioned, the Board met with grave difficulties, and a moment's reflection will convince anyone with or without experience, the nature of such difficulties. The problem stripped of all verbiage is this, what is ore hidden in the earth, that can not be seen or measured by any known appliances, worth for the purpose of taxation, or what will such ore so hidden in the earth and undetermined exchange for in cash? The X or unknown quantity in the equation is, how much ore there is hidden in the earth, and how is that question to be determined with accuracy? The companies in some cases not owning the fee in the land, but pay a royalty on the ore taken out, of course, it is quite easy to guess the amount of such ore from ascertained or given data, but no two men will guess the same result, and it is quite natural to assume that the companies would not invest such large sums of money as they have there invested except upon some reasonable data indicating that the income or amount of ore found will justify such expenditure, yet this at best is a treacherous road, not only for the companies to pursue, but still more so for the State's officers to found judgments and decisions of value upon. The State Board after viewing these properties and going down in the mines could not reach any satisfactory conclusion, or determine the value of such minerals. Testimony was produced before the Board showing among other things the amount or number of tons taken out of each mine per year and its value on the banks. This is easily ascertained; it is the basis on which the royalties are paid, and under our statutes it would seem to be an important element from which a just valuation can be based on those points. This method would seem to be fair to the companies, as they would pay on a valuation that can be computed with mathematical accuracy and not on unknown quantities. It would also seem to be just to the taxing districts, as a tax will be paid from year to year on all ore actually taken out of the ground. To illustrate, if the value of the ore in the earth is three dollars per ton and there is one million of tons of such ore, the value would be three millions of dollars, and if one hundred thousand tons of ore was taken out each year, the assessment should be reduced accordingly, if the price remained the same until the mine was exhausted or became worthless. On the other hand, if the value is made on the out-put and one hundred thousand tons of ore are taken out per year and the price is the same, the value would be three hundred thousand dollars each year, and as long as there was any ore taken out, much or little. Upon investigation for legislation upon this subject by our sister States, where mines of various kinds are located, we have found that the legislation for the purpose of assessing this class of property is based upon the principle of valuing the out-put as the only practical method of dealing with this class of property.

Thus the laws of Minnesota (Laws 1881, Ex. Sess. C. 54. Sec. 1), provide that all companies carrying on the business of mining in that State, "in lieu of all the taxes or assessments upon the capital stock, personal property, income and real estate of such corporation, in or upon which real estate such business of mining may be carried on, or which real estate is connected therewith and set apart for such business, the following amounts, that is to say, on and for each ton of copper, fifty cents; on and for each ton of iron ore mined and shipped or disposed of, one cent for each ton; and for each ton of coal, the sum of one cent per ton; each ton to be estimated as containing two thousand two hundred and forty pounds; one-half of such payments to be credited to the general fund of the State, and the other half credited to the county or counties in which such mines are located."

This statute is similar to many others in the different States, and is cited here for the purpose of showing the principle on which the different States have proceeded to value and assess this class of property.

The ores and minerals found in Hardyston township, Sussex county, are valuable.

"Willemite," "Franklinite," "Calcite." The Willemite is used as ore for the manufacture of metallic zinc or spelter, the Franklinite is used for the manufacture of oxide of zinc. The spelter, generally speaking, is used and enters into the manufacture of all kinds of fine castings, such as stands for lamps, gas fixtures, and is mixed with copper to make brass from which metallic cartridges are made for the government Winchester rifles, &c. It also enters into the composition of the propellors for large ocean-going steamers, war vessels, &c. The oxide of zinc is used for coloring india rubber white for painting and in mixed paints of all light colors. Spiegel-eisen is also produced, which is an alloy of iron and manganese, which in turn is used in converting iron into steel in the Bessemer process. The procedure, method and work of the Board have been given at some length in this case for the purpose of illustrating the practical work of the State Board of Taxation, and to show some of the problems that are continually arising, to be solved in the performance of the duty imposed by the statute, under which the State Board of Taxation was created, and for the further purpose of calling the attention of the Legislature sharply to this subject, which is of interest to an entire county of the State, and if any better or wiser method can be devised by the Legislature from that pursued by the State Board of Taxation for valuing this and property of like characteristics, to have it embodied in a legislative enactment for the guidance of the State Board of Taxation, and the Assessors of those townships.

GENERAL CONCLUSIONS.

It may be observed that the State Board of Taxation has passed upon the last year many interesting and important questions of taxation, other than those referred to in detail, involving questions of law and the valuation of many classes of property, such as bank stock, farm land and houses, hotels, apartment houses, buildings and machinery used for the purpose of manufacture, mineral lands, wild lands, suburban lands cut into lots, meadow lands, wood lands, vessel property, cranberry bogs, personal property, visible and invisible, so-called, such as household goods, machinery, book accounts, stocks, bonds and other evidences of debt. Sometimes the question is as to their value simply; at others, the question may be what rule of law or statute is to be applied, or in what taxing district the property is to be assessed under the statute; deductions for debt; under what circumstances and from what property deductions may be allowed; exemptions from taxation; when and what facts will justify an exemption—in fact, it would be entirely safe to say that the duties imposed upon the State Board of Taxation have involved, and continuously do involve the solution of questions not only of law running all through the laws of taxation in force in New Jersey, as well as questions affecting all the kinds and classes of property to be found in the State, as well as the adjustment of the County and State school tax, so-called, between the various taxing districts of the counties. With its endless, bewildering and perplexing details, the work of the Board is continually increasing, and the experience of the members is broadening and deepening from year to year; the correspondence from the Assessors and citizens is voluminous and often perplexing, involving questions and answers on almost every conceivable point in the law of taxation and the value of property. By such correspondence and the distribution of the annual report made to the Legislature much useful information is collated and distributed to the Assessors and the general public, all of which is tending toward one result, viz., the more rigid enforcement of the law; more accurate, careful and diligent work on the part of the Assessors, and the general equalization of values in the several counties of the State. It is not too much to say that some beneficial results have been accomplished through the act by which the State Board of Taxation was created, not only in allaying the dissatisfaction of taxpayers with the assessments by providing a remedy and tribunal by which their grievances can be adjusted, but in increasing and enlarging the sum total of the ratables throughout the States.

It may be proper to state in this connection that the only adverse criticism of the act creating the State Board of Taxation has emanated from some of the municipalities, which was prompted by decisions made by the Board reducing individual assessments as made by the local Assessors in those municipalities, and such criticism has been based upon the ground that it was an interference with "home rule," so called by a State tribunal, so far as the action of the Board was wrong or unwarranted by the facts. The criticism of course is just, but the principle on which it was based is unsound, viz., an interference with local matters by a State tribunal, because the State would be derelict in its duty to leave its citizens without a remedy for their grievances, and if carried to its logical conclusion, the Supreme Court, or other tribunal, should not interfere with the local Assessors in their judgment and actions, which is absurd. While the criticism has been based upon that principle, in order to cover the real motive for such criticism, which was and is in fact prompted by dislike on the part of local Assessors in some communities, who are utterly unfit to discharge the responsible duties of an Assessor, from having their actions interfered with, when shown to have been prompted by ignorance, carelessness, indifference, or personal or political prejudice. So far as the criticism is prompted by such motives, it is without influence upon the members of the State Board of Taxation in the discharge of its duties. And if the municipalities desire not to have their local Assessors interfered with, or the individual assessments decreased where injustice is shown to exist, such Assessors must equalize the individual assessments of that taxing district. The time has gone by in New Jersey when the citizens will permit Assessors to assess one person's property at one percentage of value and another at double or treble such percentage. If the remedy is not supplied by the State Board of Taxation, the Legislature will be called upon to devise a remedy through some other channel for such acts of injustice on the part of Assessors.

STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

Notice from the State Board of Taxation to the Assessors, to Equalize Assessments.

The State Board of Taxation, after a careful study of the tax laws in New Jersey, is convinced that the most effective and practical way to enforce the tax laws of the State and equalize the assessments, is to bring the State Board of Taxation and the Assessors throughout the State into personal, intimate and friendly relationship ; to supervise, aid and encourage the Assessors, as far as is practical, at the time and before the assessments are actually made. It was with this object in view that a meeting of the State Board of Taxation was held in every county of the State during the first six months after the act was passed which created the State Board of Taxation, for consultation with the Assessors, and since then, other meetings have been held with individual Assessors at various times. The past year a notice, a copy of which is hereby annexed, was on the day of its date mailed to every Assessor in the State, calling attention to the importance of equalizing the assessments, the rules adopted by this board regulating the assessments, and suggesting that information would be supplied to the Assessors upon application to the State Board of Taxation.

STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.
TRENTON, N. J., June 25th, 1894 }

DEAR SIR—The State Board of Taxation desires to call the attention of the assessors to the fact that many appeals and complaints have been filed with the State Board of Taxation the past year, in which the equalization of assessments and valuation of property for taxation has been asked by this Board. This being the time designated by the statute for the Assessors to make the valuation of property for the year 1894, the State Board of Taxation request the Assessors in the various taxing districts to give especial care to equalizing the assessments and valuation of property, so that the total valuations of the various taxing districts in which the tax rate is fixed may not be unnecessarily disturbed, on appeals to this Board, by property-owners complaining of unequal assessments and valuations by the Assessors in the first instance. The State Board of Taxation also directs your attention to the rules adopted by this Board regulating the assessments, contained in the annual reports submitted to the Legislature and mailed to each Assessor in the State, and any information desired by any of the Assessors will be furnished on application to the Secretary of this Board at Trenton.

Respectfully,

ALBERT H. SLAPE, President.

THEODORE P. HOPLER,

HENRY J. WEST,

CHARLES C. BLACK,

State Board of Taxation.

THOMAS B. USHER,
Clerk, Trenton, N. J.

This Board is convinced if the assessments throughout the State were required by law to be all completed at a given or uniform time, after which the assessment books were required to be open for public inspection for thirty days before the tax books should be confirmed, and a further period of thirty days should be allowed in which an appeal could be taken to this Board before the taxes should become due and payable, the greatest obstacle to the equalization of taxes and the enforcement of the law would be removed. The State Board of Taxation recommends the passage of a law embodying this principle, the details of which have been commented upon in the previous annual reports, and they are made a part of this report, for legislative consideration.

EXEMPTIONS.

At the last session of the Legislature the following act was passed (P. L. 1894, p. 354), May 16th, 1894:

"5. And be it enacted, That the following persons and property shall be exempt from taxation, namely: (I) The property and the bonds and other securities of the United States, and the bonds and securities of this State which are by law exempt from taxation, the property of the counties, townships, cities and boroughs of this State, and stocks and other personal estate owned by citizens of this State situate and being out of this State, upon which taxes shall have been actually assessed and paid within twelve months next before the day prescribed by law for commencing the assessment. (II) All colleges, academies or seminaries of learning, public libraries, school-houses, buildings erected and used for religious worship, buildings used as asylums or schools, for the care, nurture, maintenance and education of feeble-minded or idiotic persons or children, provided such institutions are duly incorporated under the laws of this State, and the land whereon the same are situate, necessary to the fair use and enjoyment thereof, not exceeding five acres for each one, the furniture thereof and the personal property used therein, the endowment or fund of any religious society, college, academy, seminary of learning, public library or institution for feeble-minded persons as aforesaid; provided, that no building so used which may be rented for such purposes and rent received by the owner therefor shall be exempted; the stock of any corporation of this State which, by charter or other contract with this State, is expressly exempted from taxation, the stock of any corporation of this State the capital whereof is by this act made taxable to and against said corporation, pews in churches, graveyards not exceeding ten acres of ground, cemeteries and all buildings erected thereon, and all buildings used exclusively for charitable purposes, with the land whereon the same are erected and which may be necessary for the fair enjoyment thereof, and the furniture and personal property used therein, the funds of all charitable institutions and associations collected and held exclusively for the sick or disabled members thereof, or for the widows of deceased members, or for the education, support and maintenance of deceased members."

The State Board of Taxation in each of the three annual reports of the Board has called the attention of the Legislature to the large class of property exempt from taxation in New Jersey, and the list of exempt property is continually being enlarged by legislative enactment. Hereto annexed will be found a detailed statement (and the most accurate list of such exempt property ever made in New Jersey), compiled and tabulated. There seems to be a growing and continued dissatisfaction on the part of many thoughtful students and tax-payers on this subject, viz., of the large amount of property that is exempt under the law in New Jersey. In some taxing districts it makes the taxes of those who own property subject to taxation seem unnecessarily large. The last line of the statute above cited, which reads "or for the education, support and maintenance of deceased members," will not escape notice that the word children has been accidentally omitted either in the printing or engrossing the bill; the clause as it now stands would seem to give, as has been suggested, the Legislature jurisdiction over deceased members; on that subject the State Board of Taxation would hardly claim to control or regulate taxation for that purpose.

SUMMARY OF RECOMMENDATIONS.

The statute creating the State Board of Taxation makes it the duty of the Board to submit to the Legislature in its annual report such recommendations as it may find necessary to prevent the evasion of just and equal taxation. The State Board of Taxation, in its last report, at pages 27-30, after careful and mature consideration, summarized the points to which it desired to call the attention of the Legislature for legislative consideration. We again repeat what was there stated, and in addition thereto, suggest—First, that some schedule of limitations should be passed by the Legislature, limiting the time after which the assessments are made an appeal can be taken to this Board; and, second, granting thirty or sixty days after a decision had been rendered by the Board, in case of a reduction in the assessment by the Board, in which the appellant may pay the taxes on the valuation so reduced without interest, and on a failure to make such payment within the time so limited, the judgment of this Board would cease to be operative. This might prove a valuable aid to the collection of taxes.

Third, making the time for the assessment, its completion, collection of taxes, and the time when they shall become a lien on the property, uniform throughout the State in all taxing districts, and giving each taxpayer and each taxing district ample opportunity to ascertain the amount of the assessment of individuals, corporations and taxing districts, and this for the purpose of obtaining evidence on which to base an appeal in case of unjust or illegal assessment.

GENERAL REVIEW OF THE ASSESSMENTS BY COUNTIES.

In an annual report to the Legislature by the State Board of Taxation, such as is contemplated by the statute under which the Board was created, it would seem that at best the report can touch upon the most important points only, and upon those in a general way. It has been considered by the Board that the work done was the most essential element to give in detail in an annual report.

Any review of the assessments throughout the taxing districts of the State would require such an endless amount of detail and space that it is questionable whether it would be of any general use. Specific tables on particular points will be found in a subsequent part of the report which are intended to supplement this general review, such as the total valuations by counties for the year 1894, the total valuation of property in the State, the amount of exempt property, percentage which the personal property bears to the real estate in each county, value of real and personal property in the cities, the names of the assessors throughout the State, &c.

STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

ATLANTIC COUNTY.

Including Atlantic City, which is divided into four wards, Atlantic county has fifteen taxing districts, four of these being boroughs. Except in Atlantic City there is nothing peculiar or especial concerning the assessment of property in this county. It consists of agricultural lands, some large tracts of wood land (pine and cedar), cranberry bogs, and what might be termed wild or waste lands, together with some property being brought into use for summer homes. Small fruits are grown in Hammontown township and grapes at Egg Harbor. There have been but few appeals or complaints brought to the attention of the Board of assessments in these taxing districts, except from Atlantic City, which were referred to in the first annual report. Much of the property in this county has no ready sale or market value. The assessments, except in isolated cases, seem to be generally satisfactory. In Atlantic City there is some of the most valuable property on the coast. There has been little or no complaint of unfair assessments in Atlantic City since those spoken of in the first year of the existence of the State Board of Taxation. A gradual adjustment of these assessments has been made, by which the townships were relieved of some of the burdens of the county government.

BERGEN COUNTY.

Bergen county has twenty-five taxing districts, many of which are boroughs. This county recently has become known as the "borough county." With the exception of Hackensack and Englewood, there are no large towns and no cities. This county as much as any other, and more than many, has had opened within its territory a large number of tracts of land which have been sub-divided into lots and sold both for speculation and school building.

It is questionable whether it is not one, if not the most unevenly assessed counties in the State. All, or nearly all, the Assessors try to see how little of the county expense their taxing district can be required to bear. This is done by decreasing the amount of the individual assessments in that taxing district. Still there have been but few appeals before the State Board of Taxation from Bergen county.

BURLINGTON COUNTY.

Burlington county is the largest county in territory in the State, and is divided into twenty-eight taxing districts, mostly townships; there are, however, a number of towns and villages. This county runs from the Delaware river to the Atlantic ocean. Part of the county is a rich agricultural district, while the southern or lower half is mostly wood land of little value, including large tracts of wild land, pine and cedar, cranberry bogs, &c. This county, like Bergen, is very unevenly assessed, and prior to the creation of the State Board of Taxation the agricultural lands were assessed at their true or market value, and in many cases in excess of such value. The assessments on this class of property have been somewhat decreased the past few years, in consequence of which the total valuation of the county for the year 1893 showed a decrease, as compared with 1892, of $21,766, as did four other agricultural counties, viz., Cumberland, Gloucester, Hunterdon and Salem counties, thus relieving the farmers of some of the burdens of taxation, who, as a class, are taxed higher than almost any other class of citizens in New Jersey.

CAMDEN COUNTY.

There are eleven taxing districts in this county, including the city of Camden. As was stated in the first annual report of this Board, at page 42, the State Board of Taxation in 1891 increased the ratables of Camden city from $18,944,275 to $22,733,130; the city of Gloucester from $1,905,000 to $2,381,250; the city of Merchantville from $452,552 to $754,253; Stockton township from $1,496,821 to $1,871,026. In 1893 the city assessors of Camden further increased the ratables of the city of Camden to $32,590,988. This was felt to be too high by many of the citizens of Camden, and in 1894 the rata-bles in the city of Camden were reduced by the city assessors to $25,362,249. Prior to this year there have been each year a large number of appeals and complaints filed with the State Board of Taxation; this year there have been but four or five, and those of small assessments. It would seem that the assessments in this county are becoming adjusted satisfactorily to the citizens of this county and on a basis of substantial justice. There is much valuable property in the county of Camden, and her towns and municipalities are increasing in population and wealth. It may not be too much to claim that the action of the State Board of Taxation has been felt beneficially in this county.

CAPE MAY COUNTY.

This county is divided into twelve taxing districts, including Cape May City and seven boroughs. This is the smallest county in the State, in the same total of the ratables throughout in territory.

Cape May City being the principal taxing district in the county, which is composed largely of a summer population with summer homes. And, as was stated in a former report, the assessments in this county are, in the main, fairly made, and with substantial equality, there has been but one appeal and complaint made to the State Board of Taxation from this county.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

Cumberland county is divided into thirteen taxing districts including the cities of Bridgeton, Millville and Vineland. The county is largely an agricultural one, with manufactures located at Bridgeton and Millville.

There is little to be said in addition to what was said in reference to this county in the first annual report at page 44, where the assessments in this county and the oyster industry were spoken of at some length.

There has been some improvement in the assessments in this county, though small. From Vineland appeals have been made to the State Board complaining of unjust assessments.

ESSEX COUNTY.

Essex county is the wealthiest county in the State. In 1894 the total valuation was $178,165,000. It is probably the most diversified in property interest, including several cities, townships and boroughs. It is divided into sixteen taxing districts, and includes as great, if not a greater variety of property interests, than its big rival, Hudson county. In each of the reports, the State Board of Taxation has spoken in terms of praise of the system of assessments as practiced and adopted in the city of Newark, and we have no reason to change those opinions at this time. There have been some appeals and complaints made to the State Board of Taxation of unequal assessments in this county. There have been complaints made to the Board that in some of the cities and taxing districts of Essex county the assessments in those districts were at a lower percentage of their true value than those in the city of Newark, thereby throwing upon the city of Newark an undue and unjust proportion of the county and State school tax, though no appeal has ever been filed with the State Board of Taxation seeking to remedy the alleged injustice. The short time which elapses between the date fixed for the meeting of the County Board of Assessors and the date when the taxes become due in the city of Newark is an obstacle in the way of invoking a remedy. Indeed this is true in many of the counties in which are located the larger cities, requiring as it does prompt and energetic action on the part of the officials of the city to perfect an appeal and prepare and produce the evidence necessary to prove the alleged injustice.

This county is divided into sixteen taxing districts, including the city of Woodbury, and is largely composed of agricultural lands, and like the most of such land, is assessed at a fair market value. There have been but few appeals filed with the State Board of Taxation, and those mostly involving small assessments in which some error had crept into the assessment.

HUDSON COUNTY.

The assessments in Hudson county have already been referred to somewhat in detail in a previous part of this report under the title of "Equalization of County and School Tax," in connection with the appeal by the city of Hoboken against the city of Jersey City, in which a complaint was made alleging that an injustice had been done the city of Hoboken by the action of the county board of equalization.

This county is divided into eleven taxing districts, and, next to Essex county, is the wealthiest and most diversified in property interest of any county in the State, though the smallest in territorial area. There have been each year a large number of appeals filed with the State Board of Taxation complaining of unfair assessments and unjust discriminations against individual property-owners, involving frequently large assessments and a great variety of property-interests. These appeals have been principally from the cities of Bayonne and Jersey City. In the report last year, at page 32, we had occasion to refer to the gross inequalities in the assessments in the city of Bayonne. The Assessor in the city of Hoboken has failed entirely to carry into effect the rule adopted and promulgated by this Board, which requires Assessors in cities to assess the land and improvements separately. We think the Legislature should make this mode of assessment compulsory by legislative enactment, as no one questions its beneficial effect. The assessments in this county, owing to the action of the county board of equalization, have been much improved, in consequence of which a less number of appeals have been filed with the State Board of Taxation at the present time, although there is much yet to be done in the line of equalization, not only between the municipalities but between the individual assessments in all the municipalities of this county.

STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

HUNTERDON COUNTY.

Hunterdon county is divided into eighteen taxing districts. It is distinctly an agricultural county, and it is well and carefully assessed. This is shown somewhat by the relative value which the assessment of personal property bears to the real estate, the real estate being 625 per cent. and the personal property being 375 per cent., the highest per cent. of personal property of any county in the State. It was the only county in the State which showed a decrease in the total valuation of the assessments of 1892, compared with the valuation of 1893, showing a decrease of $156,796; 1894, $617,825; which, in turn, was due to a gradual decrease on the assessments of agricultural lands which has taken place in nearly all the agricultural counties in the State, there being little or no increase of other classes of property in this county. There have been few appeals filed with the State Board of Taxation alleging unfair or unjust assessments as between individuals in this county. The case referred to in a former part of this report was a dispute between the township of Holland, Hunterdon county, and the township of Pohatcong, Warren county, in which township of those two counties certain property of the Warren Manufacturing Company should be assessed and the taxes collected.

MERCER COUNTY.

Mercer county is divided into ten taxing districts, including the city of Trenton. There is more property exempt from taxation in this county, in proportion to the sum total of all the property, than in any other county in the State. The County Board of Assessors of this county and the Assessors of the city of Trenton have in the past and do continue to make the assessments with care and accuracy. There have been but few appeals filed with the State Board of Taxation from Mercer county. In fact the city of Trenton and the county of Mercer are among the best and most carefully assessed taxing districts in the State.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY.

In connection with the case of the city of New Brunswick against East Brunswick, in a previous part of this report, we had occasion to refer to the assessments of this county. There have been, prior to the present year, a large number of appeals filed with the State Board of Taxation from this county, many of such appeals being from the city of New Brunswick; this resulted from the assessments having been made on a basis of "true value" by the valuers under the charter; this in turn raised the valuations in the city of New Brunswick above or in excess of some of the other taxing districts of the county, thereby throwing upon the city of New Brunswick an undue or unjust share of the county and school tax. Hence the appeal by the city of New Brunswick against some of the other taxing districts in that county, resulting in a judgment against East Brunswick, referred to in a previous part of this report as having been affirmed by the Court of Errors and Appeals. It may not be too much to claim that the beneficial effects of the statute creating the State Board of Taxation has been directly felt by Middlesex county and the city of New Brunswick. The county of Middlesex is divided into thirteen taxing districts, including the city of New Brunswick.

STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

MONMOUTH COUNTY.

Monmouth county is unlike any other county in the State, although in some respects like Burlington county. It is one of the principal agricultural counties, famed for the richness and variety of its agricultural lands ; and these lands, like all the agricultural lands of the State, are assessed substantially at their true or market value. The attempt to divide this county has brought into public notice the varied interests and rapid growth of this county, containing summer population unlike anything else of its kind in the world. The problems involved in a proper valuation of much of the property located in the taxing districts along the shore are difficult. Land in some places has reached a high value, and in other places it has increased but little ; fashion and popularity have inflated values in some places, while others have had a gradual growth only. Many costly and beautiful structures have been built in these districts, to say nothing of those which are entirely unique in design and purposes of use. As in parts of Morris and Essex counties, the rich establish handsome homes in this county, for a part of the year, from sister States, and it is but natural that the public sentiment of the community should encourage the Assessors to deal fairly, if not lightly, with them in the matter of taxation.

There have been a number of appeals filed with the State Board of Taxation, involving in some cases assessments of large amounts.

The county is divided into twenty-three taxing districts.

MORRIS COUNTY.

Morris county is divided into seventeen taxing districts, including Morris township, in which Morristown is located. The assessable value of Morris county does not keep pace with its public reputation for wealth. In 1884 the total valuation of the county was $20,432,783.00; in 1894 it was $24,846,011.00. Much of the property in this county, especially in Morris township, is like similar property in parts of Somerset, Essex and Monmouth counties: it presents questions involving good judgment to value it correctly. Here people of means make their homes from adjoining States, and the public sentiment supports and encourages the Assessors to deal lightly with the assessments, in many instances and at times with unjust discriminations toward other taxpayers in the same county. Personal property is required by law to be assessed without a public sentiment to support the Assessors, by requiring that all assessments shall be made upon the same per cent. of value, i. e., equalized. It is idle to expect that the assessments in such a county will be either well or fairly made.

STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

OCEAN COUNTY.

Ocean county is divided into eighteen taxing districts. With the exception of the portion lying along the ocean and at Lakewood, the property in this county consists chiefly of large tracts of woodland and uncultivated land. The increase in value and the improvements at Lakewood have been phenomenal, unequaled in rapid development, probably, by any other place in the State. Lakewood is well known as a winter resort for a large class of people drawn from adjoining States. The tax rate in the taxing districts in this county, on an average, are lower than in any other county. This is largely the result of making a fair valuation of all the property in the taxing districts and assessing the property substantially on the basis of the constitutional standard of true value. During the first and second years of the existence of the State Board of Taxation a large number of appeals were filed with the Board, in most cases involving property of comparatively small value; since then there have been few or no appeals filed from this county.

PASSAIC COUNTY.

Passaic county is divided into eight taxing districts, the smallest number in any county in the State. This includes the cities of Paterson and Passaic. There have been a large number of appeals, in which unjust assessments and unfair discriminations were alleged, filed with the State Board of Taxation each year. The greater part of these appeals were from assessments of property located in the city of Paterson. Many were of property located on Broadway in that city. This class of property has a well-defined and easily-ascertained market value. Some of the appeals were of tracts of unimproved land lying within the city limits of Paterson which had been subdivided into lots and held for sale. There is as much if not more of this class of property in Passaic county, except possibly Bergen, than any other county in the State. Owing, perhaps, to the financial depression, which has made this class of property unsalable, irritating friction has been engendered between the city Assessors and some of the taxpayers of the city of Paterson, doubtless due to the point of view from which this class and similar classes of property may be valued. The assessments in parts of this county, and especially in the cities of Paterson and Passaic, can be much improved along the lines of individual equalization, and a healthy public sentiment directed in that channel and to that purpose would soon cure some of the evils of which many of the citizens of this county complain so often to the State Board of Taxation. It is with pleasure that the Board notes that the appeals from the city of Paterson are considerably less this year than in previous years, owing doubtless to a more substantial equalization of individual assessments by the Assessors.

STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

SALEM COUNTY.

Salem county has eleven townships, two boroughs, several thriving towns, and the city of Salem, the county seat.

Its interests are largely agricultural and the land is in a fair state of cultivation.

Its factories are glass, oil-cloths, window-sash machinery, iron molding, clothing and canning, the products of which are sent to a foreign market.

The canning of fruits and vegetables, especially tomatoes for transportation, has of recent years greatly developed.

The county has twenty-five factories for canning tomatoes alone, having an output this year of 13,500,000 cans, the tomatoes being raised on about 7,500 acres. During the season this industry employed 3,000 persons, whose wages aggregate $225,000.

The glass industry is also large.

These factories seem to pay a fair proportion of taxes. More complaint is heard on the taxation of farm-land than from any other source. Agricultural land throughout the county seems to be assessed at true value, and in many instances, and sometimes in whole townships, beyond true value. Much complaint arises from this source, especially in the townships of Elsinboro' and Lower Alloways Creek, where, admittedly, agricultural land is assessed far beyond its true value. It is apparent, from an examination of the duplicates of these townships for the past few years, that the assessments have consisted of little else than copying the duplicate of previous years. This promises to be remedied in the future. No complaints of excessive valuations have been heard from Mannington, Pilesgrove, the Pittsgroves, or other townships—some few from Upper and Lower Penns Neck—all of which seem to be assessed at true value, perhaps, in some instances, above true value.

Salem county contributes $200 to the Reserve Fund, more than it receives from it.

SOMERSET COUNTY.

There are in Somerset county ten taxing districts. The State Board of Taxation in each of the annual reports had occasion to speak in terms of commendation of the assessments as made in this county. The assessments are, generally speaking, uniform and based upon the constitutional standard of true values, and it is unquestionably one of the best assessed counties in the State. The tax-rate is uniformly low, as compared with many other taxing districts of other counties. The relative value of the personal property to the real estate is : personal property, 30 ; real estate, 70. It is said that the public affairs of this county are well managed. In Bernards township there have been the past few years a number of large, beautiful and costly houses erected for summer homes, which has greatly added to the wealth of this township. During the past year a few appeals have been filed with the State Board of Taxation from Somerset county.

SUSSEX COUNTY.

Sussex county is, as is well known, largely hilly and mountainous, and here rich deposits of minerals are found. There are some good agricultural lands, though limited in extent. There are many large tracts of unproductive and wood lands. The county is divided into sixteen taxing districts, and with the exception of the assessments on mineral property in Hardyston and Sparta townships, referred to at length in a previous part of this report, there has never been an appeal filed with the State Board of Taxation from this county. Much of the land and property in this county has no ready sale, and consequently no fixed market value. It is said that the property in the county is uniformly assessed and upon a basis of true value. Our investigations in this county would lead to that conclusion. The experiments of Mr. Edison, by which the ores may be separated by means of electricity, are adopted in this county on a large scale, and it would seem that, if these experiments are successful from an economic standpoint, it will give an additional value to much of the mineral lands in Sussex county that are now too "lean" to work.

STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

UNION COUNTY.

The cities of Elizabeth, Rahway and Plainfield are located in this county. Union county is divided into twelve taxing districts. The assessments in this county, as a rule, are made with judgment, intelligence and care; especially is this noticeable in the city of Elizabeth, the principal taxing district. There have been appeals filed with the State Board of Taxation from this county, principally from the city of Rahway, where the assessments are not up to the standard as made in some other taxing districts of Union county. In the city of Rahway the real estate is assessed by one set of Assessors, and the personal property by another set, and the different wards are likewise separately assessed, the result of which is necessarily lack of uniformity and equality in the valuations. Summit and Plainfield, in Union county, like parts of Essex and Morris county, have had many beautiful and costly houses erected for homes of persons attracted there from adjoining States, and these have materially added to the valuations in those taxing districts.

WARREN COUNTY.

Warren county is one if the principal agricultural counties in the State. Much of the land is rolling, and the soil is rich and fertile. Agricultural land in this county, like the same class in other counties, is assessed at its true or market value. Indeed, the Assessors in Warren county have shown energy and fairness in making the assessments throughout the county. At Phillipsburg there is relatively a large amount of railroad property assessed by the State Board of Assessors, being a railroad center for a number of railroads. At Washington there are large factories with valuable industries. Like most of the agricultural centers, there has been little or no increase in the sum total of the ratables of Warren county the past ten years.

Warren county is divided into twenty taxing districts, including Phillipsburg, which is divided into four wards. There have been a number of appeals filed with the State Board of Taxation, since its formation, from Warren county.

DEDUCTIONS FOR DEBTS AND TAXATION OF BANK SHARES.

H. J. M.

The rules of the State Board of Taxation require that where deductions for debt are claimed, and the creditors reside in other taxing districts in the same State, each Assessor shall notify the Assessors of those taxing districts of such deductions; and that when the owners of stock in banks located in their taxing district are resident in another taxing district, each Assessor shall send notice of the same to the Assessor of such other taxing district. Under the act of April 1st, 1869, the tax of this class of property is assessed to the holder of such stock in the taxing district where the owner resides. If this rule were strictly complied with by the Assessors, a large amount of invisible personal property now escaping taxation would be listed. One of the difficulties under which the Assessors have labored, is that no list of Assessors of the various taxing districts in the State was obtainable. Such a list is herewith appended and we would urge upon the Assessors that in order to more efficiently perform their duties, they furnish the desired information to the Assessors of other localities, of debtors and bank shareholders residing in such districts.

Taxation of Vessels.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The following correspondence between the State Board of Taxation, the Department of State and the Bureau of Navigation, Washington, D. C., shows the interest manifested in this subject, and also shows how others are dealing with this important question of Taxation as applied to vessel property :

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF NAVIGATION,
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 11, 1894. }

The Honorable the Secretary of State of New Jersey:

SIR—The Bureau of Navigation, Treasury Department, is making inquiry concerning the methods of taxation for State and local purposes of vessels and vessel owners, with a view to ascertain the effect of such taxation upon the American carrying trade and to make comparisons with the statutes of other maritime nations, relating to the same subject.

I have the honor respectfully to request that, if practicable, this office be furnished with copies of the tax laws of your State bearing upon the subject.

I shall deem it a favor to receive the name and address of any public officer, State or local, who may assist in the purposes of the inquiry.

Respectfully yours,

EUGENE T. CHAMBERLAIN,
Commissioner.

The above communication was referred by the Honorable Secretary of State to the State Board of Taxation and answered April 12th, 1894.

DEAR SIR—The Bureau of Navigation, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., is making inquiry concerning the methods of taxation, for State and local purposes, of vessels and vessel owners, with a view of ascertaining the effect of such taxation upon the American carrying trade.

I do not believe there is any State law in New Jersey bearing upon this subject, but if so, will you kindly furnish me with a copy of the same?

Respectfully yours,

HENRY W. EGNER,
Collector of Customs.

This communication was answered April 17th, 1894, by this Board.

OFFICE OF THE COLLECTOR OF CUSTOMS,
PORT OF NEWARK, N. J., }
May 7th, 1894.

Hon. State Board of Taxation, Trenton, N. J.:

GENTLEMEN—On April 13th, 1894, I wrote, at the request of the Bureau of Navigation, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., to the Hon. Secretary of State Kelsey, for information in reference to taxation for State and local purposes of registered vessels engaged in foreign trade. The Secretary replied that he referred my letter to your Board, and that you would furnish me the information desired; but you sent the report direct to the Commissioner of Navigation at Washington.

I received a letter again from said Commissioner, acknowledging the receipt of a copy of the report, but stating that it does not fully appear whether New Jersey exempts vessels from taxation. Will you kindly inform me of the facts.

Respectfully yours,

HENRY W. EGNER,
Collector.

This communication was answered May 10th, 1894.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 3, 1894.

Albert H. Slape, Esq., Salem, N. J.:

SIR—I inclose a memorandum illustrating the weight of State and local taxation on shipping in many of the States. In New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Alabama, however, our ships in foreign trade are free from all taxes.

You will note that Bath, Me., levies more taxes on its shipping than are paid by the North German Lloyd Company on over $15,000,000 of shipping to Germany; that Portland levies more taxes than the Cunard Company paid to Great Britain last year on nearly $9,000,000 of shipping; that Portland taxes are greater than those paid even at Gloucester, Mass., or Detroit, Mich., on about $1,500,000; that taxation in Maine appears to be three times heavier than in California, double that of Georgia and many times greater than in England, France or Germany. Indeed, none of the three great transatlantic lines could have operated under the Maine tax laws, as those laws would have levied taxes on them greater than the amount any one of those companies paid as dividends last year.

That the taxes levied on shipping at Gloucester last year were more than those paid by the North German Lloyd Company on over $15,000,000 shipping to the German government, or those paid by the Cunard Company, on over $9,000,000 of shipping, to the British government; and the taxation at that port for State and local purposes is double the rate imposed at San Francisco, or Savannah, Ga., on shipping.

That the taxation on shipping at Charleston, S. C., is five times heavier than that levied by Great Britain or Germany.

That American shipping at Savannah was taxed last year for State and local purposes a sum more than the Cunard Company paid to the British government on over $9,000,000 of shipping, and that the burden of taxation appears to be four times heavier in Georgia than in France, and nearly six times heavier than in Germany.

That while Alabama exempts from taxes vessels engaged in the foreign trade, the taxes on coasting vessels at Mobile last year were double those paid by the Pacific Steam Navigation Company to the British government on over $6,500,000 of vessel property.

That the taxes levied on shipping at New Orleans last year were more than the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique paid on $22,000,000 of shipping to the French government, than the two great German lines—the North German Lloyd and Hamburg-American line—paid on their combined shipping, valued at over $25,000,000, and were three times the taxes paid by the Cunard Company on over $9,000,000 to the British government.

That San Francisco levied last year $85,675 taxes—a sum within $600 of the combined taxes paid by the Cunard line, the Hamburg-American line, the North German Lloyd line and the Compagnie General Trans-atlantique to their respective governments, their combined shipping comprising upwards of 700,000 tons of the best steel and iron steamships in the world, valued at upwards of $58,000,000.

That the taxes on shipping for State and local purposes at Detroit were in amount virtually what the North German Lloyd paid on over $15,000,000 of shipping to the German government, and more than the Cunard or the Hamburg-American lines paid to their respective governments on over $9,000,000 each.

That on its shipping Milwaukee levied taxes greater than those paid by the Cunard Company to the British government on over $9,000,000 of shipping.

That the taxes levied on shipping at Cleveland, Ohio, last year were more than the combined taxes paid to the German, French and English governments by their three great steamship lines, the North German Lloyd, the Compagnie General Transatlantique and the Cunard line on their $48,000,000 of shipping.

Respectfully yours,

EUGENE T. CHAMBERLAIN,
Commissioner.

MEMORANDUM.

Comparing Taxes on Shipping for State and Local Purposes in Several Ports of the United States with Taxes Levied by Leading Maritime Nations.

The following tables show the taxes paid by American shipping for State and local purposes in various ports of the United States, compared with taxes paid by leading foreign steamship companies under the laws of their respective governments. Attention is invited to the heavy taxes on shipping levied by certain States of the United States as compared with taxes levied by foreign nations.

STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

Only the earnings of shipping are taxed in Great Britain, Germany and France. On January 1, 1894, Austria suspended for five years taxes on its vessels in foreign trade.

Delaware exempts shipping from all taxation; New York and Alabama exempt their shipping in the foreign trade from all taxation; Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Connecticut tax the earnings only of their shipping in foreign trade, and under decision of the United States Supreme Court, Pennsylvania imposes no tax on its shipping in interstate or foreign trade.

The tabulation of foreign steamship companies is compiled from the annual reports of such corporations to the stockholders. The valuation in each instance is doubtless the full valuation, as it is the sum for which the vessel property is carried as an asset on the company's books. The tonnage is almost wholly steel and iron steamships.

The tabulation of ports in the United States is compiled from courteous responses of local assessment boards to the inquiries of this Bureau, and shows the taxes levied for 1893, the assessed valuation, and the estimated ratio of assessed to full valuation.

NOTES ON TONNAGE.

As city limits (within which assessments are levied), and customs districts (for which tonnage is returned), are not conterminous, the figures as to tonnage give only an approximation and overstatement of the tonnage of vessel property paying the taxes mentioned. The tonnage documented at any given large port in the list will be, to an extent, owned and taxed in smaller places near by (e. g. of 18,611 tons documented from Belfast, Me., only 2,860 tons in the city paid the tax named, $844. The remainder was owned, valued for assessment and paid taxes, not included in the tabulation, at numerous small places near by). The tonnage figures thus are available only for rough comparison with foreign tonnage.

NOTES.

Boston, Mass.—The Chairman of the Board of Assessors states: “It would be impossible to state the total assessed valuation of vessels in the city of Boston, Mass., for 1893. Such class of property is included (excepting vessels in foreign carrying trade), in the dooming of those citizens who do not make returns, without specifying the same, and is assessed as all other property, at a full and fair cash value and at the same rate ($12.90 per $1,000 in value). The proportion of personal estate returned to us under oath is about 20 per cent. of the total assessed valuation ($202,015,500), of which $31,500 was for ships and vessels not engaged in the foreign carrying trade, these being practically exempt by law. The value of ships in foreign trade as returned to us was, for 1893, $281,856.”

Providence, R. I.—The Assessor of Taxes states: “In this State no personal property is ‘Listed’ for taxation unless a sworn return is made by the tax-payer. In the absence of such a return the tax-payer is doomed in such an amount as in the judgment of the assessors is sufficient to cover the value of his property. Comparatively few returns are made, and therefore no estimate can be given from the assessment rolls to the value of vessel property.

“Corporations are not, in this State, taxed for vessels, but the capital stock is taxable to the stockholders at its market value. No tax is levied on the earnings of corporations owning vessels.

“No discrimination is made in favor of vessels engaged in foreign trade.”

New York.—The Secretary of the Department of Taxes and Assessments states: “It is impossible to answer your first question as to the total assessed valuation of vessels of all descriptions in this city for the year 1893. * * * The tax on real estate and personal property of individuals and corporations, not taxed directly by the State, for 1893, in this city, was 1.82 per cent. The capital stock of corporations and the personal property of individuals owning vessels are taxable under the laws of this State, in this city, as personal property. * * * Corporations owning vessels engaged exclusively in plying between ports in this city and foreign ports, are exempt from taxation on their capital."

Philadelphia.—W. H. Loughlin, Clerk to the Board of Revision of Taxes, states: "Vessels belonging to individuals or corporations of this city and State are not subject to taxation. * * * All corporations of this State are subject to a tax upon their capital stock."

Wilmington, Del.—Delaware exempts all vessel property from taxation.

Buffalo.—The Chairman of the Board of Assessors states: "The greater number of vessels running into and out of this port are owned by railroad corporations, and have their principal office in other places than Buffalo, so that we cannot, according to law, assess them here. We have consequently no assessment on vessels for city taxes, as the vessels which might be legally assessed are so encumbered with mortgages as to prevent their taxation."

Chicago, Ill.—While no reply from the Assessors has been received, the Bureau learns from private citizens that some years ago the Assessors taxed vessel property at its full insurable value, and that accordingly many vessel owners were compelled to make nominal transfers of this property through partnerships, &c., to other ports. Thus Chicago, though in tonnage of entries and clearances a port of the first rank, in its ownership of documented vessel property takes very low rank, its vessel property being worth only about $300,000. These facts illustrate one result of heavy State taxation of floating property.

MEMORANDUM CONCERNING THE TAXATION OF VESSELS.

Great Britain, Germany and France impose taxes on the incomes derived from steamships and vessels as on incomes derived from other productive property. The rate is understood to vary with budget requirements from year to year, but the law is not a large factor in the expense account of those operating vessels. The North German Lloyd Company, for example, on its fleet of 80 iron and steel steamers of 225,097 tons—larger by 2,000 tons than the entire registered iron and steel steam tonnage of the United States—paid as income tax 94,000 marks ($22,372) for 1893. For 1893 the city of Bath, Me., collected $24,026 taxes on 224 vessels of 119,999 tons, mostly wooden sailing, besides taxes on capital stock of corporations owning ferry-boats, tugboats and steamboats. On January 1st, 1894, Austria exempted all seagoing vessels from income tax for five years, and all new sea-going vessels built in Austrian yards are exempted from this tax for five years from date of register.

Vessels are not subject to federal taxation in the United States, except in the form of a few small fees on entry and clearance for specific services and tonnage tax. As imposed under the act of June 19th, 1886, these taxes do not put vessels of the United States at a disadvantage, compared with vessels of other nations; indeed, for the fiscal year 1893 American vessels paid $70,019 tonnage taxes, foreign vessels $464,920, of which British vessels alone paid $338,674. For purposes of comparison it may be noted that the total British subvention of steamships enrolled as cruisers is £21,972 ($106,839), and that the British post office estimates by the Admiralty in this year's naval estimates allow a loss of £62,300 ($302,934) on the cost of mail transportation to the United States over receipts from such postage, which may be taken as a rough measure of subsidy under the form of mail contract.

The only taxes, accordingly, on vessel property which may be deemed to place vessel-owning in the United States at a disadvantage compared with vessel-owning in other countries are imposed by State tax laws. These have been modified by decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States. (See particularly Philadelphia Steamship Co. v. Pennsylvania, 122 U. S. Reports 326, in which it is held: "The corporate franchises, the property, the business, the incomes of corporations created by a State may undoubtedly be taxed by the State; but in imposing such taxes care should be taken not to interfere with or hamper, directly or by indirection, interstate or foreign commerce, or any other matter exclusively within the jurisdiction of the Federal Government.")

Since 1881 New York State has exempted "from all taxation for State or local purposes" all vessels registered in the State engaged in foreign commerce, and this exemption, drawn in the broadest terms, is to continue to the year 1922.

Under the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States noted above, Pennsylvania levies no taxes on vessels in foreign commerce.

Delaware imposes no taxes on vessels.

Alabama exempts from taxation vessels engaged in the foreign trade. In the four States named vessels registered for the foreign trade, in so far as taxation is concerned, are more advantageously placed than those subject to income tax in Great Britain, Germany and France.

Massachusetts and Connecticut tax vessels in the foreign trade on the valuation of net earnings, not deducting insurance, for the preceding year, thus placing them substantially on an equality with vessels owned in Great Britain, France and Germany. New Hampshire taxes vessels as "stock in trade."

In the remaining twenty-one seaboard and lake States all vessels are taxed as personal property. While nominally assessments are at the full valuation, the valuation varies not only in one State as compared with other States, but also at different ports in the same State. The twenty-one States where this system obtains are Maine, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, California, Oregon, Washington, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota.

In North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia more or less elaborate systems of license charges and occupation taxes impose further burdens on shipping.

LEGISLATION IN THIS STATE IN RELATION TO THE TAXING OF VESSEL PROPERTY.

By the act of April 11, 1866 (Revision 1150, ¶61), it is enacted that all real and personal estate within this State, whether owned by individuals or corporations, shall be liable to taxation at the full and actual value thereof on the day in each year when by law the assessment is to commence.

By paragraph 63, of the same act (Revision 1151), it is enacted that the term personal estate as used in that act, shall be construed to include goods and chattels of every description, including steamboats and other vessels.

By chapter CXIV., of the Laws of 1891, it is enacted that the tax on visible personal estate shall be assessed in and for the township, ward or taxing district where such property is found, * * * as of the day presented by law for commencing the assessment for each year.

DIFFERENT METHODS OF ASSESSING VESSELS IN NEW JERSEY.

This Board addressed letters of inquiry to a number of Assessors who would be most likely to have for assessment this species of property, inquiring specifically how the Assessor assessed vessel property in his district, and further inquiring—Do you assess it at the home port, that is, where the vessel is registered or where the owner lives, or do you assess vessels wherever you find them and do you assess at a cash value or a percentage? The two following letters received in reply will show two entirely different methods of assessment:

MY DEAR SIR—Your letter received in regard to assessing vessel property. The law says all vessel property shall be assessed in the locality where the owner resides. As I understand the law, it matters not if the vessels have never been in the waters of Salem county. What I consider the proper method to use, providing the owner will not give satisfactory account of property, is to go to custom-house and get the whole amount. Now, in regard to valuation: the valuation should be placed on vessel property as on all other—when such is marked with plain depreciation there should be allowed a reasonable percentage off for same, but assessed at the actual value as near as can be determined. I trust this information may be of service to you. Should there be any other question, I will gladly do the best I can to assist.

Very truly, ..... .

DEAR SIR—I received your letter, and would say that I assess vessels wherever I find them. It is a question, where the owner lives in one district and you find the vessel in another in the State. But we have done it and collected tax. I also assess them at their cash value.

Respectfully yours, ..... .

TAXATION AND TONNAGE.

Cooley on Taxation, p. 91, says: [Tonnage Duties.]

"The same clause of the Constitution (Fed. Court, Art. I, § 10) forbids the States to lay any duty of tonnage without the consent of Congress.

"Notwithstanding this prohibition vessels are taxable as property in the same manner as other property is taxed; but taxes levied by a State upon ships and vessels, as instruments of commerce and navigation, are forbidden; and it makes no difference whether the ships or vessels taxed belong to the citizens of the State which levies the tax, or to citizens of another State, as the prohibition is general, withdrawing altogether from the States the power to lay any duty of tonnage, under any circumstances, without the consent of Congress. Nor is it important that the vessel is engaged exclusively in navigating the waters of the State which taxes it.

"State Tonnage Tax Cases, 12 Wall, 204, 219, 225.

"Lott v. Morgan, 41 Ala. 246.

"Vessels employed in a harbor as lighters are within the protection of this clause. Lott v. Morgan, supra.

"A duty of tonnage, in the most obvious and general sense, is a duty measured by the capacity or size of the ship or vessel on which it is laid; but other duties may be within the interest of this prohibition, if they are laid on the vessel as an instrument of commerce, and even if not laid for the benefit of the State itself, but as fees for officers.

"Nor is it important that the duty is imposed as a means of enforcing some authority which unquestionably belongs to the State, such as the power to establish quarantine regulations. 19 Wall 581; 20 Gratt. 419, 424; 36 La. An. 666.

"A State may erect wharves and charge wharfage for their use; and a city may do the same and measure the charge by tonnage. (105 U. S., 559; 20 Wall, 577.) (A duty of tonnage is a charge for the privilege of entering, or trading, or lying in a port or harbor. Wharfage is a charge for the use of a wharf. Bradley, J., in Transportation Company v. Parkersburg, 107 U. S. 691, 696.)

"But a State act which, with certain exceptions, requires that all ships or vessels which enter a port, or load or unload, or make fast to any wharf therein, shall pay a certain rate per ton, does not impose a charge for wharfage, but a tonnage duty, and is, therefore, void.

"On the other hand, a license fee required of those operating ferry-boats is not a tonnage tax, even though the boats ply between different States (107 Ill. 560; S. C. in Error, 107 U. S. 365. See 1 Black 603; 11 Mich. 43; 41 Miss. 27; 16 How. 524; 98 Pa. St. 105). Neither is a toll imposed for the use of the State for the use of a State improvement of navigable waters. (3 McLean 286; 18 Conn. 500; 15 Fed. Rep. 292; 44 Mich. 7.)"

THE PLACE WHERE VESSEL PROPERTY SHOULD BE ASSESSED, OUTSIDE OF STATUTORY REQUIREMENT.

Mr. Cooley (Cooley on Taxaton,) lays down the following rule for the taxation of vessel property :

"Unregistered vessels, not permanently located anywhere, have their situs for taxation at the domicile of their owner (Pullman Palace Car Co. v. Tombley, 29 Federal Rep.; Hays v. P. M. Co., 17 How. 596, 9 Am. St. Rep. 116); and this rule must prevail in the absence, &c., although if registered they are taxable at the home port of registry." And he cites as authority the case of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania v. The American Dredging Company, 122 Penna. State Rep. 386.

The Court found as fact that the American Dredging Company was a corporation chartered in Pennsylvania, with a capital stock of $495,000.00. A considerable portion of the capital stock was invested in lands and buildings situate in the State of New Jersey, and which the Court held was not liable to taxation in Pennsylvania. Besides this, $92,000.00 was invested in four dredges, which were built outside of the State of Pennsylvania, three of which had never been within the limits of the State, and the fourth had never been within its limits until after the end of the tax-year in question; $6,000.00 was invested in a tug, which was built outside of the State, and was not within its limits during the tax-year; and $38,500.00 was invested in eleven scows, which were built outside the State, and were never within its limits.

The opinion was delivered by Paxson in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and it was held—

That the defendant company was not liable to taxation in Pennsylvania upon so much of its capital stock as was represented by lands and buildings situate in the State of New Jersey, but that the $92,000.00 of said stock represented by the four dredges, the tug-boat and the eleven scows, conceding that they, or at least a portion of them, were built outside of the State of Pennsylvania and have never been within it, were liable to taxation in the said State of Pennsylvania. This is not because the situs of personal property is where the domicile of the owner is found. This rule is doubtless true as to intangible property, such as bonds, mortgages, and other evidences of debt. But the better opinion seems to be, that it does not hold in the case of visible, tangible personal property permanently located in another jurisdiction. In such case it is taxable within the jurisdiction where found, and is exempt at the domicile of the owner. Goods and chattels, horses, cattle and other movable property of a visible or tangible character are liable to taxation in the jurisdiction of the State wherein the same are and are ordinarily kept, irrespective of the residence or domicile of the owner. Legal protection and taxation are reciprocal, so that such personal property and effects of a corporeal nature, or that may be handled or removed, as receive the protection of the law, are liable to be taxed by the law where they are thus protected. Rorer on Interstate Law 204, and cases there cited; Potter on Corporations, §§ 189, 190; Pierce on Railroads 472.

No fault is found with this principle, but does it apply to the facts of this case, above cited?

It must be conceded that the property in question—the dredges, tugs and scows—must be liable to taxation in some jurisdiction. If it were permanently located in another State it would be liable to taxation there, but the facts show that it is not permanently located out of the State. From the nature of the business it is in one place to-day and in another to-morrow, and hence not taxable in the jurisdiction where temporarily employed. It follows that if not taxable here, it escapes taxation altogether. The rule as to vessels engaged in foreign or interstate commerce is that their situs for the purpose of taxation is their home port of registry, or the residence of their owner if unregistered.

Pullman Palace Car Company v. Tombley, 29 Fed. Rep. 660.

Hays v. Pacific Mail Steamship Company, 17 How. 596.

These vessels—dredges, scows, &c.—if they may be so called, were not registered. Hence their situs for taxation is the domicile of the owner. This rule must prevail in the absence of anything to show that they are so permanently located in another State as to be liable to taxation under the laws of that State.

9 Am. St. Rep. 116.

If a vessel may by law be assessed in different districts, assessment in one is exclusive of others.

ATTENTION TO ASSESSMENT OF VESSEL PROPERTY.

Very little attention seems to be bestowed upon the taxation of vessel property in this State. It is a large and valuable interest, with a bay and a navigable water-front on the Delaware river extending from Trenton to Cape May, and with an ocean front from Cape May to Sandy Hook, and a navigable water-front on the Hudson river and bay to the dividing-line between this State and the State of New York, must necessarily have from its riparian location large pecuniary interests in this species of property. The natural bent of the mind of those who live along these shores, and even extending into the interior, is not so much the cultivation of the soil as it is as to the acquirement of wealth in some cases, and in other cases to merely obtain a livelihood from the advantages which the adjacent waters afford. Attention is not specially directed towards that class known as "baymen" and "fishermen" along the shore, whose whole outfit consists of only a small boat and fisher's tackle, from the income of which a family is supported even though this is done at the expense of leaving fields uncultivated.

But attention is directed to the fact that this adjacency to these navigable waters naturally begets a desire for investment in vessel property, and when it is considered that within the limits described there are ports of entry where vessels are registered, viz., at Camden, Bridgeton, Absecon, Port Norris, Jersey City, whose records of registration are easily accessible, it seems singular that so little attention has been given to the taxation of this species of property by the respective Assessors. Yet the stubborn fact remains that this species of property is in most cases not taxed at all, in some cases by evasion, and in other cases by the neglect, ignorance or collusion of the Assessor. The effect of this neglect to assess this species of property is to make the tax higher for those persons whose property is assessed according to true value in the taxing district. The desire of the honest taxpayer is that all property should be assessed with a very strict adherence to lawful exemptions. The Board has discovered great differences in practice in this respect on the part of the Assessors in dealing with this kind of property—some wrong in principle, others wrong in application. One Assessor wrongly affirmed and stoutly insisted that vessel property was not taxable in this State; that Congress and the United States had sole jurisdiction, and to pay a license fee was all that was required. The absurdity is apparent.

Unless vessels have an actual situs elsewhere, they are taxable at their home port. This is never denied. * * * The controversy arises upon what is home port, and whether the vessels are also taxable elsewhere.

The decisions as to what is the home port of a vessel are based upon section 4141 of the United States Revised Statutes, which provides that a vessel shall be registered in the district within which the port to which she belongs is, and defines the port to which she belongs, as that port at or nearest to which the owner, if there be but one, or if more than one, the husband or acting and managing owner usually resides. 59 Am. Dec. 526.

Therefore the home port depends upon the locality of the owner's residence, not upon the plan of enrollment. Ibid.

HOW VESSEL PROPERTY IS TAXED.

In most of the States vessel property is taxed the same as other personal property in that particular State, and at the same valuation, except in the State of Maine, where a graduated valuation seems to be in force as to vessel property. The customary valuation of sailing tonnage at Maine ports, where Assessors give nearly if not quite full valuations, is $31 per ton for new vessels, i. e., vessels not over two years old, deducting $2 a ton for each year of age after second year, to eighth year, thereafter deducting $1 for each additional year of age until the valuation is reduced to $5 per ton; and if for any reason it falls below that value, it is no longer assessed for purposes of taxation, but that is not the rule in this State.

In New Jersey, of course, the constitutional mandate, "according to true value," maintains, and the laws passed in pursuance of this mandate are the guides to an Assessor in making an assessment of vessel property in any particular case. Much must be left to the wise discretion of the Assessor as to the true value of vessel property—the same wise discretion as in valuing other personal property. Common sense teaches us that the age and present condition of a vessel has much to do with its value.

WHERE PERSONAL PROPERTY TAXED.

Chapter CXIV, Section 6, of the Laws of 1891, requires that the tax on visible personal estate shall be assessed in and for the township or taxing district where such property is found ; the tax on other personal estate shall be assessed on each inhabitant in the township, ward or taxing district where he resides, as of the day prescribed by law for commencing the assessment for each year, * * * * * and personal estate belonging to non-residents may be assessed either to the owner or to the person in possession or charge thereof.

Special School Tax.

This Board has made an earnest effort to discover the amount of special school tax ordered and raised in the different townships and school districts of this State for the school year ending June 30th, 1895, under the new school law (Chap. CCCXXXV, 1894), entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to establish a system of public instruction,'" passed May 25th, 1894, for the information of the Legislature, but with only partial success.

In order to obtain this information the Board sent to each county Superintendent of Public Schools of this State a letter of inquiry requesting him to send, by return mail, the amount of special school tax ordered raised in his county the past summer, designating in his reply the amount ordered and raised for text-books, the amount for building and repairs, and the amount for current expenses, making special taxes in cities, whose Boards of Education act under special charters, a separate statement, and further inquiring if any district in his county had neglected or refused to order or raise such special taxes to kindly mention each by name. The result in obtaining the information sought has not been altogether satisfactory, and this Board can only submit to the Legislature such information as has been received from these sources, as follows :

WARREN COUNTY.

SPECIAL TAXES.

Name.	Special Taxes Ordered for Text-books.	Special Taxes Ordered for Building and Repairs.	Current Expenses.
Warren County .....	$5,250.00	$5,302.00	$10,394.00

Phillipsburg City acting under special charter.

The following townships have not raised any special tax :

Hardwick Township.

Hope Township.

Pahaquarry Township.

It would be of great value to the taxing authorities of the State could these reports have been complete in every respect. From some counties no reports have been received. From others reports are given from boroughs which had no existence previous to this year and are not named in the reports of school taxes raised in previous years. A study of the figures received is interesting. The free text-book law, the hygienic instruction law, the township school law, the flag law, all undoubtedly contributed to increase the amount necessary to conduct the schools. Yet some counties actually report a decrease in the amount ordered raised this year, as compared with that ordered raised and noted in the State Superintendent's last published report. In the reports it will be noticed that, compared with last year's report, the increases are as follows :

Atlantic.....	$9,491.00
Burlington.....	15,644.00
Cape May.....	2,727.00
Mercer.....	3,176.00
Passaic .....	6,043.00

Ocean.....	$14,331.00
Salem.....	8,526.00
Somerset.....	7,722.00
Warren.....	1,839.00

Cumberland reports a decrease, outside of Bridgeton and Millville, of $2,083. Gloucester reports a number of townships as needing to take up no special taxes under the new law. There can be no comparison of the reports from Monmouth and Camden, for these reports are not complete. Union reports the substantial decrease of $34,356. Sussex reports a decrease of $1,994.

The greatest increases noted are in counties in which large cities are conspicuously absent. The greatest proportionate increase is in counties which have heretofore raised the greatest amount of school tax per capita. It will be worth considering how these new laws, if honestly enforced, can cause such different results in different parts of the State. Ocean, Sussex and Cumberland are the three receiving counties of the State; that is, they receive aid from the Reserve Fund. Yet in spite of the passage of laws that must necessarily increase the expense of conducting the schools, the reports from two of these counties show a substantial decrease in the amounts ordered raised by special tax.

APPORTIONMENT OF STATE SCHOOL MONEYS FOR THE YEAR 1894.

The State School Tax of 1894 was like that of the preceding year, levied at the rate of five dollars ($5) for each child of lawful age in the State. The number of such children, as shown by the school census of 1893, was 423,872. The amount of taxable property upon which this tax was levied was $768,295,274. The following statement shows the amount of taxable property, as returned by each county, and the amount which each will be required to pay:

Eleven counties, namely, Bergen, Burlington, Camden, Gloucester, Hudson, Mercer, Middlesex, Morris, Passaic, Union and Warren, will receive from the Reserve Fund the same amounts which they will respectively be required to contribute to it.

The counties in which the amount of tax to be raised exceeds the amount which they will receive in distribution, and the amount of such excess in each case are as follows:

Atlantic, . . . . .	$1,000.00
Essex, . . . . .	4,675.00

Salem, . . . . .	200.00
Somerset, . . . . .	2,075.00
Total . . . . .	$14,912.00

The sums thus drawn from the above-named counties were apportioned to four other counties, which will by this operation receive from the proceeds of the tax a greater amount respectively than they will be obliged to pay. The counties and the amounts by which each will be benefited are:

Cape May, . . . . .	$142.00

PART IV.

APPENDIX I.

Rules of the State Board of Taxation.

FIRST GENERAL RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF ASSESSORS.

First. All property must be assessed according to its true value.

Second. Assessors must determine the true value of property from an actual view and from the best sources of information within their reach.

Third. No deductions shall be allowed, either for indebtedness or for property claimed to be exempt from taxation, unless the person claiming such deduction shall sign a statement in writing, under oath or affirmation, in compliance with the acts of March 29th, 1878, and February 23d, 1885. The Assessors, under said acts, have power to ascertain the truth of such statements.

Fourth. Assessors shall enter in a separate list a description of all cemeteries, churches and public buildings and other real estate exempt from taxation, together with the name of the person or persons or corporation owning the same, and they shall value such buildings, property, lots and tracts of land at their true value in the same manner as other real estate, and in each case they shall state the ground of exemption.

Fifth. Lands occupied by a person other than the owner may be assessed to the owner, or as lands of non-residents if owned by such, and unoccupied lands not owned by a person residing in the taxing district shall be denominated lands of non-residents, and shall be assessed as such.

Sixth.—The tax on visible personal estate shall be assessed in and for the township, ward or taxing district where such property is found. The tax on other personal estate shall be assessed on each inhabitant in the township, ward or taxing district where he resides, as of the day prescribed by law for commencing the assessment for each year.

Seventh. All real estate shall be assessed in the township, ward or taxing district in which the same may be situated, and where the line between two taxing districts divides a farm or lot owned or possessed by the person taxed, the same shall be taxed, if occupied, in the taxing district in which the occupant resides, and if unoccupied, each part thereof shall be assessed to the owner thereof, in the taxing district in which the same may be. (See P. L. 1892, page 378.)

Eighth. Every person shall be assessed for all personal estate in his possession or under his control as trustee, guardian, executor, administrator, or in any other representative or fiduciary capacity, in the same manner as other persons are assessed.

Ninth. Whenever an exemption is claimed by a person in a township or taxing district and the person to whom the indebtedness is due resides in another taxing district than the one in which the exemption is claimed, it shall be the duty of the Assessor allowing the exemption forthwith to notify the Assessor in the township or taxing district where the creditor lives.

Tenth. Adopted and promulgated on the eighth day of March, A. D. 1892. It is hereby ordered by the State Board of Taxation that hereafter in all assessments of real estate in all cities of this State classified in law as "First and Second-class cities," the Assessor or other taxing officers whose duty it is by law to make such assessments in said city, shall determine the true value of each lot and tract of real estate in such city, without the buildings and improvements, and shall note the same, and shall determine and note separately the true value of every house and other building or structure worth over one hundred dollars, and the whole shall be added and carried out as the value of such lot or tract.

It is hereby further ordered that this order shall apply to the cities of Newark, Jersey City, Paterson, Trenton, Camden, New Brunswick, Elizabeth, Hoboken, Bayonne, Orange, Passaic and Bridgeton.

General Rules Regulating the Practice on Appeal.

First. All complaints of individuals or corporations shall be by a written petition of appeal, filed with the Clerk and Secretary of said Board, setting forth, in short form and with clearness, his, her or its cause of complaint, and asking the relief which he, she or it desires ; such petition of appeal shall be verified by the oath of the complainant, and if a corporation is the complainant, by the oath of either its President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer or other officer or agent.

Second. When the complaint is that of a taxing district or county, such petition of appeal need not be verified, but only signed by its attorney or other officer.

Third. Complainants may appear by attorney, agent or in person.

Fourth. Petitions of appeal shall be heard in the order of time in which the same shall be filed with the Clerk and Secretary, excepting those of a taxing district or county, which shall have preference over those of individuals or corporations.

Fifth. All such petitions of appeal shall be heard summarily by said Board, and the complainant shall produce at the hearing such evidence, documentary or otherwise, as will show the injustice complained of, and particularly the assessed value of similar property similarly situated in the same locality, if any.

Sixth. The complainant filing a petition of appeal must serve a copy of such petition upon either the attorney or clerk of the taxing district in which such property was assessed, on or before the filing the said petition, and file with the Clerk and Secretary of the Board such evidence of service.

Seventh. The said Board will sit in the city of Trenton on the first Monday of July next, at 10:30 A. M., for the purpose of hearing appeals, and from time to time thereafter until all appeals have been disposed of by said Board.

Eighth. Any cause or other matter may be referred by the Board, at its discretion, to some suitably qualified person, before whom the testimony may be taken in writing, and in such case, each party, the complainant first and then the defendant, shall proceed to take and complete the testimony on his part before such person qualified to administer an oath, by sessions continued from day to day, on proper notice of the time and place of commencing the same, which notice shall be served at least two days before the day appointed for taking the examination.

The time for taking testimony, and the time at which testimony must be closed and returned to the State Board, will be fixed by the State Board in each case on application or otherwise, and the time for taking testimony above limited shall not be extended except by order of the Board or a member thereof made upon notice.

Documentary evidence may be offered as exhibits, or admitted by consent of parties, or produced by order of the Board.

Application to have a cause referred may be made to the Board at any session thereof, or in writing to the Board, addressed to the Secretary at Trenton.

Act Creating State Board of Taxation, with Supplement of 1894 thereto.

CHAPTER CXIV, LAWS OF 1891.

A General Act concerning taxes.

1. BE IT ENACTED by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That there shall be established a board for the equalization, revision and enforcement of taxation, to be called the state board of taxation, which shall consist of three members, who shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate; their term of office shall commence on the first Monday of April next, and shall be for a period of five years, unless sooner removed by the governor; all subsequent appointments shall be for a term of five years, subject to removal by the governor; said members shall be citizens of this State; each member shall, before entering upon his duties, file with the secretary of state an oath, taken before a justice of the supreme court, that he will faithfully discharge the duties of his office; they shall each receive an annual salary of two thousand and five hundred dollars; two members shall constitute a quorum of said board, and any official act shall be valid which has the sanction of two members; they shall have power to employ such clerical and other assistants as may be necessary to carry out the intents and purposes of this act, and such assistants shall be paid reasonable compensation, to be determined by the board upon the approval of the governor; said board shall keep a full record of their proceeding; said board shall have power to make such rules, orders, regulations and directions as they may deem necessary to a faithful discharge of their own duties, the duties of their assistants, and also to secure the equalization, revision and enforcement of taxation in this state;

they shall have the power, in the performance of any duties imposed by this act, of compelling the attendance of witnesses, and to call for and compel the production of books and papers, and they may delegate such power to any member of their board authorized by them to investigate and report; said members, or any one of them, shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to any person for the purpose of ascertaining any facts proper for them to know, or to enable them properly to perform the duties of their office; and they may reduce the statements of persons sworn to writing, and require such persons to subscribe thereto, and may ex parte apply for and obtain from any justice of the supreme court an order compelling any person to submit to examination in reference to such matters, and said justice may punish anybody as for contempt who shall disobey any order made by such justice in the premises; said board shall have power on complaint of any owner to decrease the assessment made upon his property, where, in their judgment, injustice has been done or where it is necessary to secure uniform and true valuation; and if for this purpose it becomes necessary to direct an assessor or other taxing officer to make a re-assessment of such property according to the rules which the said board shall establish, it shall do so; and if such assessor or other taxing officer shall fail or refuse to comply with the order so given the board shall have power to appoint some other person to make the new assessment, under the direction of the board; and the assessment so made and affirmed by the board shall be and be deemed to be the assessment of such property for the year.

2. And be it enacted, That where complaint shall be made to said board in writing, verified by the oath of the complainant, by any person or corporation aggrieved at the assessment of his or its property, said board shall have power to review and correct the action of the local assessors or other taxing officers, and of all boards of tax review by reducing such assessment; such review and reduction may be made of any assessment hereafter to be made, or which shall have been made since the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, where the tax in such assessment has not been paid.

3. And be it enacted, That where said board shall deem it necessary, in order to obtain a correct assessment of property in any city of this state, they may, by rule, direct that the assessor or other taxing officer shall, from actual view and from the best sources of information within his reach, determine the true value of each lot and tract of real estate in his district, without the buildings and improvements, and shall note the same, and shall determine and note separately the true value of every house and other buildings or structures worth over one hundred dollars, and the whole shall be added and carried out as the value of such lot or tract; in cities where said board shall direct the land and buildings to be so separately valued, the receipt given for the payment of the tax on such property, by the collector or other officer charged with the collection of such tax, shall contain a statement of such separate valuations; said board may, by rule, direct that each assessor shall enter in his books the number of acres of arable land, the number of acres of meadow and pasture land, the number of acres of woodland, and the number of acres of uncultivated upland and swamp land in each tract as near as may be.

4. And be it enacted, That the assessor or other taxing officer making the assessment of real estate subject to taxation, shall enter in a separate list a description of all cemeteries, churches and public buildings and other real estate exempt from taxation, together with the name of the person or persons or corporation owning the same, and he shall value such buildings, property, lots and tracts of land at their true value in the same manner as other real estate, and in each case he shall state the ground of exemption; the assessor or other taxing officer shall be entitled to receive the same compensation per name for making such list, and in the same manner as he is now entitled to receive for assessing taxes under the laws of this state.

5. And be it enacted, That lands occupied by a person other than the owner may be assessed to the owner, or as the lands of non-residents, if owned by such; and that unoccupied lands not owned by a person residing in the taxing district shall be denominated lands of non-residents, and shall be assessed as such; and that no tax on real estate shall be void in consequence of any land being erroneously classed or omitted from classification as the lands of non-residents or as the lands of unknown owner, nor in consequence of any omission of or mistake in the name of the rightful owner, in the assessment list or roll, but in such cases no such tax shall be collected except from the real estate assessed.

6. And be it enacted, That the tax on visible personal estate shall be assessed in and for the township, ward or taxing district where such property is found; the tax on other personal estate shall be assessed on each inhabitant in the township, ward or taxing district where he resides as of the day prescribed by law for commencing the assessment for each year, and all real estate shall be assessed in the township, ward or taxing district in which the same may be situated; when the line between two taxing districts divides a farm or a lot owned or possessed by the person taxed, the same shall be taxed, if occupied, in the taxing district in which the occupant resides, and, if unoccupied, each part thereof shall be assessed to the owner thereof, in the taxing district in which the same may be, and this, whether such division line be a township, ward or county line; and personal estate belonging to non-residents may be assessed either to the owner or to the person in possession or charge thereof; whenever the owner of personal property in two or more taxing districts is entitled to a deduction for debts in the excess of the assessed value of his personal estate in the taxing district where he resides, he shall be entitled to have such further deduction as is or may be allowed by law made from the assessed value of his personal estate in the other taxing districts wherein he may own personal estate; it shall be the duty of the board hereby created to prescribe by rules, the manner in which such deductions shall be claimed and allowed.

7. And be it enacted, That every person shall be assessed for all personal estate in his possession or under his control, as trustee, guardian, executor administrator or in any other representative or fiduciary capacity, in the same manner as other persons are assessed, and where a person is so assessed as trustee, guardian, executor, administrator or in any other representative or fiduciary capacity, he shall be assessed as such with the addition to his name of his representative character, and such assessment shall be carried out on a separate line from his individual assessment; and in cases where the same property is held by several trustees, guardians, executors, administrators, or other representatives or fiduciaries, only one of them shall be taxed for the same; and such property shall be assessed in the hands of such one of said executors, guardians, trustees, administrators, representatives or fiduciaries as have actual possession or control of such property, if such person is known to or can on reasonable search be ascertained by the assessor or other taxing officer; otherwise such property may be assessed in the name of any one of such trustees, guardians, executors, administrators, representatives or fiduciaries.

8. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the state board of taxation to meet on the first Monday of July, and from time to time as they shall deem proper, having regard to the tax laws of different localities, of each year, for the purpose of hearing the complaints of any taxpayer respecting the taxes assessed against him or it in respect to his or their property, and the complaints of any taxing district or county respecting the action of any county board of equalization, and any taxpayer feeling himself or itself aggrieved by the assessment of taxes assessed against him or it, in respect to his or its property, or the action of any board of tax review, or commissioners of appeal, and any taxing district or county feeling itself aggrieved by the action of any board or boards of equalization, may, within such time as said state board shall by rule prescribe, file a petition of appeal to the state board of taxation, setting forth therein his or its cause of complaint, and asking the relief which he or it desires, and the state board of taxation shall proceed summarily to hear and dispose of such complaints; and the said state board of taxation shall make such order respecting the procedure in such case as to them shall seem just; and it shall be the duty of the state board of taxation to hear and determine such complaints, and to revise and correct the taxes assessed against such complaining taxpayers and to revise and correct the determination of such county board of equalization by fixing the amount each taxing district shall raise, in just proportion according to the true value of the taxable property therein, and the assessment so corrected and determined by said state board of taxation shall be final and conclusive; such corrected rate of assessment shall be certified by said board to the collector of the taxing district where such property is taxable, and shall be collected in the same manner that other taxes in said taxing district are collected.

9. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for every collector of taxes to make such amendments, corrections and alterations in the description of any land or real estate assessed as shall be useful to better ascertain the location and extent thereof and to identify the same; and the taxes assessed upon such land and real estate shall be and remain a lien upon the same according to the said corrected description of the same, provided that all such correction be made before the public notice is given of the sale of such land or real estate.

10. And be it enacted, That in case where public notice for a specified time is required by law to be given before proceedings are had for the public sale of lands for unpaid taxes, no certificate of sale or tax title shall be set aside and holden for naught by reason of any variance between the date of such notice and the actual publication thereof, provided that notice shall have been or shall be actually given for the specified number of days prior to such proceedings for public sale.

11. And be it enacted, That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to render any real or personal estate subject to taxation other than such real and personal estate as is now subject to taxation under other laws.

12. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of such board to investigate the methods adopted by local assessors in the assessment of real and personal property in this state, to carefully examine all cases where evasion of proper taxation is alleged, and to ascertain wherein existing tax laws are defective or are improperly or negligently administered; they shall annually report to the legislature, particularly specifying any means or practices or devices used for the evasion of proper taxation; they shall annually submit to the legislature such recommendations as they may find necessary to prevent the evasion of just and equal taxation.

13. And be it enacted, That if it shall appear to the satisfaction of any court wherein any certiorari is or may be brought, that any assessment of taxes removed thereby is at a rate or proportion higher or greater than is authorized or required by law, or that the amount or value of taxable property for which any person therein is assessed is too great, said court shall amend such assessment so removed as aforesaid and reduce the same to the proper and just amount, and thereupon affirm the same according to such amendment and reduction, and reverse the same as to the excess only; and the court shall have power to adopt such rules and proceedings as may enable them to make the said amendment and carry into effect the true intent and meaning of this act.

14. And be it enacted, That no return of taxes or list of delinquents made by the collector of taxes in any of the municipal divisions of this state, nor the proceedings touching or concerning such return, nor any tax warrant shall be set aside or revised on certiorari or otherwise for any lack of form which does not impair the substantial right of the plaintiff in certiorari.

15. And be it enac'd, That the chairman of every county board of equalization shall have power to issue subpoenas and administer oaths in the discharge of the duties of their office.

16. And be it enacted, That any person guilty of willful and corrupt false swearing or affirming in taking any oath or affirmation required or authorized by this act shall be deemed to be guilty of perjury and punished accordingly.

17. And be it enacted. That none of the provisions of this act shall be so construed as in any wise to alter, impair or repeal any of the provisions of an act entitled "An act for the taxation of railroad and canal property," approved April tenth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four, or any of the supplements thereto.

18. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts, whether general, special or local, inconsistent with this act, or any of the provisions thereof, shall be and the same are hereby repealed, so far as they are inconsistent as aforesaid ; but nothing in this act shall be taken to annul any assessments which have been heretofore made, or to affect any proceedings taken for the collection of such assessment, or to affect any penalties or forfeitures incurred by any person or officer in respect thereto ; and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 19, 1891.

CHAPTER CCLXXI.

A Supplement to an act entitled "A general act concerning taxes, approved March nineteenth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

1. BE IT ENACTED by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the state board of taxation shall hereafter consist of four members ; that in addition to the three members who now constitute the state board of taxation, the governor shall appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, a fourth person not of the same political party as those now constituting the state board of taxation or a majority of them ; the term of office of the member to be appointed under this act shall commence on the first day of June next, and shall be for a period of five years ; said member shall be a citizen of this state, and he shall before entering upon his duties as a member of the state board of taxation file with the secretary of state an oath taken before a justice of the supreme court, that he will faithfully discharge the duties of his office ; the members of said board shall receive an annual salary of two thousand dollars.

STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

2. And be it enacted, That at the expiration of the terms of office of the members who now constitute the state board of taxation and thereafter, no more than two persons of the same political party shall be appointed members of the state board of taxation.

3. And be it enacted, That when the said board has reason to believe from information or otherwise that any property has been assessed at a rate lower than is consistent with the purpose of securing uniform and true valuation of property for the purpose of taxation the said board shall have the power after due investigation to increase the assessment made upon such property ; and if for this purpose it becomes necessary to direct an assessor or other taxing officer to make a re-assessment of such property according to the rules which the said board shall establish, it shall do so ; and if such assessor or other taxing officer shall fail or refuse to comply with the order so given, the board shall have power to appoint some other person to make the new assessment under the direction of the board ; and the assessment so made and affirmed by the board shall be and be deemed to be the assessment of such property for the year.

4. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts, general and special, inconsistent herewith or repugnant hereto or any of the provisions thereof, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved May 17, 1894.

APPENDIX IV.

Judgment in Appeal of Taxing Districts.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY, THE STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

In the matter of the appeal of Delaware, Haddon and Centre Townships, in } the County of Camden. } Judgment.

Complaint having been made in writing, by filing a written petition of complaint with the State Board of Taxation, according to the rules of practice prescribed by said Board, by Delaware, Haddon and Centre townships, in the county of Camden, in which it is alleged that the said townships are aggrieved and injured by the proportion according to the true value of the taxable property therein of county and State school taxes the said townships are required to raise, as compared with the amount of such taxes; the city of Camden, the city of Gloucester, the borough of Merchantville and the township of Stockton are required to raise in proportion to the true value of the taxable property therein, in said taxing districts in the county of Camden; and in said petition it is further alleged that the said townships of Delaware, Haddon and Centre have been assessed for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-one according to the true value of the taxable property therein; and that the said taxing districts, the city of Camden, the city of Gloucester, the borough of Merchantville and the township of Stockton for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-one have been assessed according to a percentage of the true value, and at less than the true value of the taxable property therein, in said taxing districts in the county of Camden, and by reason of such valuations the taxes assessed against said taxing districts for county and State school taxes are unfair, unjust and illegal. And it appearing to the State Board of Taxation, by the affirmation of George T. Haines, that a copy of the said petition of complaint had been served upon all the taxing districts in the county of Camden, and the said taxing districts, to wit, Delaware, Haddon and Centre townships, and the city of Camden, the city of Gloucester, the borough of Merchantville and the township of Stockton, having appeared before the State Board of Taxation by each of their respective Assessors, and by Edward Borrough, attorney for the townships of Delaware, Haddon and Centre, and the city of Camden by its solicitor, J. Willard Morgan and the said Assessors of the said taxing districts, having under oath stated to the State Board of Taxation the basis of valuation and assessment of the taxable property in their respective taxing districts, and having proven by the duplicates of the said taxing districts that the total valuations of the taxable property in said districts is as follows:

City of Camden, eighteen million nine hundred and forty-four thousand two hundred and seventy-five dollars ($18,944,275).

City of Gloucester, one million nine hundred and five thousand dollars ($1,905,000).

Borough of Merchantville, four hundred and fifty-two thousand five hundred and fifty-two dollars ($452,552).

Stockton township, one million four hundred and ninety-six thousand eight hundred and twenty-one dollars ($1,496,821).

Delaware township, one million two hundred and fourteen thousand two hundred and eighty-eight dollars ($1,214,288).

Haddon township, two million four hundred and eighty-nine thousand and fifty dollars ($2,489,050).

Centre township, seven hundred and thirty-three thousand six hundred and sixty dollars ($733,660).

Total, twenty-seven million two hundred and thirty-five thousand six hundred and forty-six dollars ($27,235,646).

And it further appearing to the satisfaction of the State Board of Taxation by the oath of the said Assessors, and by the inspection of their respective duplicates, that the townships of Delaware, Haddon and Centre, and the taxable property in said townships for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-one, has been assessed at true value, and that the taxable property in the city of Camden for said year has not been assessed at true value, but has been assessed at 80 per cent. of its true value, and that the taxable property in the city of Gloucester and the township of Stockton for said year has not been assessed at true value, but has been assessed at 75 per cent. of its true value, and that the taxable property in the borough of Merchantville for said year has not been assessed at its true value, but has been assessed at 33½ per cent. of its true value. And it further appearing, that according to the said valuations the township of Delaware for the said year is required to raise for county and State school tax the sum of eleven thousand six hundred and eighty-one dollars and seventy cents ($11,681.70).

The township of Delaware, eleven thousand six hundred and eighty-one dollars and seventy cents ($11,681.70).

The township of Haddon, twenty-three thousand nine hundred and thirty-two dollars and twenty-three cents ($23,932.23).

The township of Centre, seven thousand and fifty-one dollars and seventy-nine cents ($7,051.79).

The city of Camden, one hundred and eighty-two thousand one hundred and fifteen dollars and thirty-one cents ($182,115.31).

The city of Gloucester, eighteen thousand three hundred and eighteen dollars and seventeen cents ($18,318.17).

The township of Stockton, fourteen thousand three hundred and nine-three dollars and ninety-three cents ($14,393.93).

The borough of Merchantville, four thousand three hundred and fifty-five dollars and thirty-six cents ($4,355.36).

Total, two hundred and sixty-one thousand eight hundred and forty-eight dollars and forty-nine cents ($261,848.49).

And after hearing the argument of Edward Burrough and of J. Willard Morgan, it is on this first day of October, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, at a session of the said State Board of Taxation, ordered, adjudged and decreed under and by virtue of Chapter CXIV. of the laws of eighteen hundred and ninety-one, that the said townships of Delaware, Haddon and Centre have been aggrieved in the premises, and that an injustice has been done the said petitioners in the assessment of the county and State school taxes, according to the true value of the taxable property therein as compared with the true value of the taxable property in the other six taxing districts; and it is further ordered, adjudged and decreed, in order to equalize, revise and correct the said assessments in just proportion according to the true value of the taxable property in each of said taxing districts, 20 per cent. should be added to the assessment of the taxable property in the city of Camden, making the true value of such taxing district twenty-two million seven hundred and thirty-three thousand one hundred and thirty dollars (22,733,130); that 25 per cent. should be added each to the assessment of the taxable property in the township of Stockton and the city of Gloucester, making the true value of each such taxing districts: Stockton township, one million eight hundred and seventy-one thousand and twenty-six dollars (\$1,871,026); city of Gloucester, two million three hundred and eighty-one thousand two hundred and fifty dollars (\$2,381,250); that 66 $\frac{2}{3}$  per cent. should be added to the assessment of the taxable property in the borough of Merchantville, making the true value of such taxing district seven hundred and fifty-four thousand two hundred and fifty-three dollars (\$754,253), which makes the gross total of the true value of the taxable property therein in all of said taxing districts the sum of thirty-two million one hundred and seventy-six thousand six hundred and fifty-seven dollars (\$32,176,657).

And it is further ordered, adjudged and decreed that the township of Delaware shall raise the sum of nine thousand eight hundred and eighty dollars and sixty-six cents ($9,880.66) for county and State school taxes.....

$9,880 66

That the township of Haddon the sum of twenty thousand two hundred and fifty-three dollars and thirty-nine cents ($20,253.39) .....

20,253 39

That the township of Centre the sum of five thousand nine hundred and sixty-nine dollars and seventy-nine cents ($5,969.79).....

5,969 79

That the city of Camden the sum of one hundred and eighty-five thousand and six dollars and fifty-four cents ($185,006.54).....

185,006 54

That the city of Gloucester the sum of nineteen thousand three hundred and seventy-six dollars and twenty-three cents ($19,376.23).....

19,376 23

That the township of Stockton the sum of fifteen thousand two hundred and twenty-four dollars and fifty-three cents ($15,224.53).....

15,224 53

That the borough of Merchantville the sum of six thousand one hundred and thirty-seven dollars and thirty-five cents ($6,137.35) for said county and State school taxes.....

Total..... $261,848 49

STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

147

The said sums being a just proportion according to the true value of the taxable property in each of said taxing districts pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided. And it is further ordered that this order, with such corrected rate of assessment, be certified to the respective Collectors of each of said taxing districts, and to the County Collector of said county of Camden.

In Matter of Appeal of East Brunswick vs. New Brunswick.

COURT OF ERRORS.

If the State Board of Taxation, upon a complaint of a taxing district, under § 8 of "A general act concerning taxes," approved March 19th, 1891, increases the valuation of another taxing district, it should proceed to add that increased valuation to the unchallenged valuations of all the other taxing districts of the county, and then to apportion the county and State tax to be raised among the taxing districts in the proportion of the valuation of each to the total valuation.

A taxing district, the valuation of which has, upon complaint, been increased, cannot by certiorari object to the determination of the State Board, because it has imposed on it an increase less than its adjudication required, nor because the Board erred in apportioning the tax to be raised when such error does no injury to it.

Quaere as to what action is within the jurisdiction of the State Board of Taxation to review under said act.

Argued at June term, 1894.

Mr. ALAN H. STRONG for plaintiff in error.

Mr. ROBERT ADRAIN for defendant in error.

The opinion of the Court was delivered by MAGIE, J.

Plaintiff in error, the township of East Brunswick, was the prosecutor of a certiorari which brought before the Supreme Court the judgment and order of the State Board of Taxation, made under the provision of "A general act concerning taxes," approved March 19th, 1891 (Laws 1891, p. 189), whereby the county and State school tax to be raised in that township for the year 1893 was increased.

The Supreme Court dismissed the writ on the ground that it did not appear that prosecutor was in any degree injured by the alleged errors of the State Board.

It is now contended that the judgment of the Supreme Court was erroneous, and should be reversed, and a judgment be rendered setting aside the order of the State Board. Error will lie upon such a dismissal of a certiorari. Horse v. Paterson, 10 Vr. 489; Middletown v. Robins, 20 Vr. 566.

By the eighth section of the act before mentioned, the State Board of Taxation is given jurisdiction inter alia over complaints of any "taxing district" feeling itself aggrieved by the action of any "Board of Equalization," and power is conferred on the State Board of Taxation to "revise and correct the determination of such County Boards of Equalization, by fixing the amount each taxing district shall raise, in just proportion, according to the true value of the taxable property therein." An assessment made within the power granted is declared to be final and conclusive.

The return to the certiorari contains a complaint made to the State Board by the city of New Brunswick, a taxing district in the county of Middlesex, and the judgment and order of the State Board made thereon. Nothing else appears in the record, and what the action of the State Board was can only be discovered from its judgment and order.

The complaint was that the valuations of property for taxation for the year 1893 in certain townships of Middlesex county (including East Brunswick), had not been made at the true value, but at less than the true value, whereby the complaining city was injured by being required to pay a greater proportion of county and State school tax than was lawful. The complaint did not show that the valuations complained of had been the subject of action by the County Board of Assessors, which Board, having power to raise the valuation of property in any taxing district, when relatively less than the valuations of other districts (Rev. 1155, § 72), and thus to equalize the burden of taxation among such districts, may be called a County Board of Equalization. None of the reasons filed in the Supreme Court challenge the jurisdiction of the State Board to act upon such a complaint, and no opinion is intended to be expressed upon that point.

The first reason filed in the court below is based upon the ground that the State Board creates differences in the rate of taxation among the taxing districts of the county. But such a result, though clearly erroneous, will not support an objection by prosecutor to the tax imposed upon it, unless it has been made to appear that its burden not only varies from that borne by other taxing districts, but is greater than by law could lawfully be imposed upon it. If other taxing districts have been improperly valued, prosecutor's remedy was by proper proceedings to compel the valuations to be increased to the true value as required by law. Cooper v. DeBow, 17 Vr. 286.

Counsel for plaintiff in error incidentally argues that it was the duty of the State Board upon such a complaint to revise the valuations of all the taxing districts in the county. To this objection it must be answered that the point is not presented by any reason, and the fact that they did not do so does not appear. In the absence of any complaint, the unchallenged valuations may well be presumed to have been made according to true value.

The adjudication of the State Board upon this complaint was that the taxable property in East Brunswick had been valued at only eighty per cent. of its true value. Apparently with the view of curing this error the Board ordered twenty per cent. to be added to the assessment of taxable property in that township. If the order in this respect is to be construed as a direction to add to the valuation complained of, twenty per cent. of its amount, it was clearly erroneous. For the adjudication was that such valuation was only eighty per cent. of the true value, and, to reach the true value, it must be increased twenty-five per cent. What the actual increase was does not appear, but if it was arrived at upon the construction above indicated, the error was in favor of, and not against plaintiff in error.

The State Board further ordered that the township of East Brunswick should raise for county and State school tax for 1893, $14,661. The amount previously imposed upon the township was $12,320, and the latter sum is eighty per cent. of $15,400. In the absence of proof to the contrary, it must be assumed that the increase was determined in the proper manner. The true mode of determining the amount of increase is plain. The increased valuation of East Brunswick should have been added to the valuation of all the other taxing districts, and the total should have been compared with the amount of county and State school tax to be raised, and with the valuations of each district. Such comparison would have given a rate of taxation necessarily less than the rate previously fixed, and the proportions or quotas to be raised in the several taxing districts, which would vary from those previously fixed, in that the quota of East Brunswick would be greater, and that of the other districts would be less than before.

As the case does not disclose the valuations of all the taxing districts, nor the previous tax rate, there are no data upon which we can make the calculation. We must assume that the State Board made it, and made it correctly.

The second reason assigned for the reversal of the proceedings was that the State Board did not reach its conclusion upon a consideration and a comparison of the duplicates of all the taxing districts of the county, nor upon the valuations throughout the county. But the grievance complained of was the undervaluation in certain taxing districts. The valuations in other districts were unchallenged and might be assumed to have been correctly made. A comparison of all the valuations was necessary, as has been stated, to determine the proportion of the total tax to be raised by each district. In the absence of proof to the contrary such comparison must be presumed to have been made. As each taxing district was interested in the determination, it would doubtless be proper and, perhaps, necessary for each to be brought before the State Board. It does not appear that the taxing districts were not all represented before the Board, but if it did appear, the error in that respect cannot be ground of objection on the part of the plaintiff in error, for it had no interest in the determination of the Board as to the proportion to be raised by other taxing districts. Such determination was a mere distribution of the increase required to be raised by plaintiff in error, and whether that increase was correctly distributed or not was a matter of no concern to it.

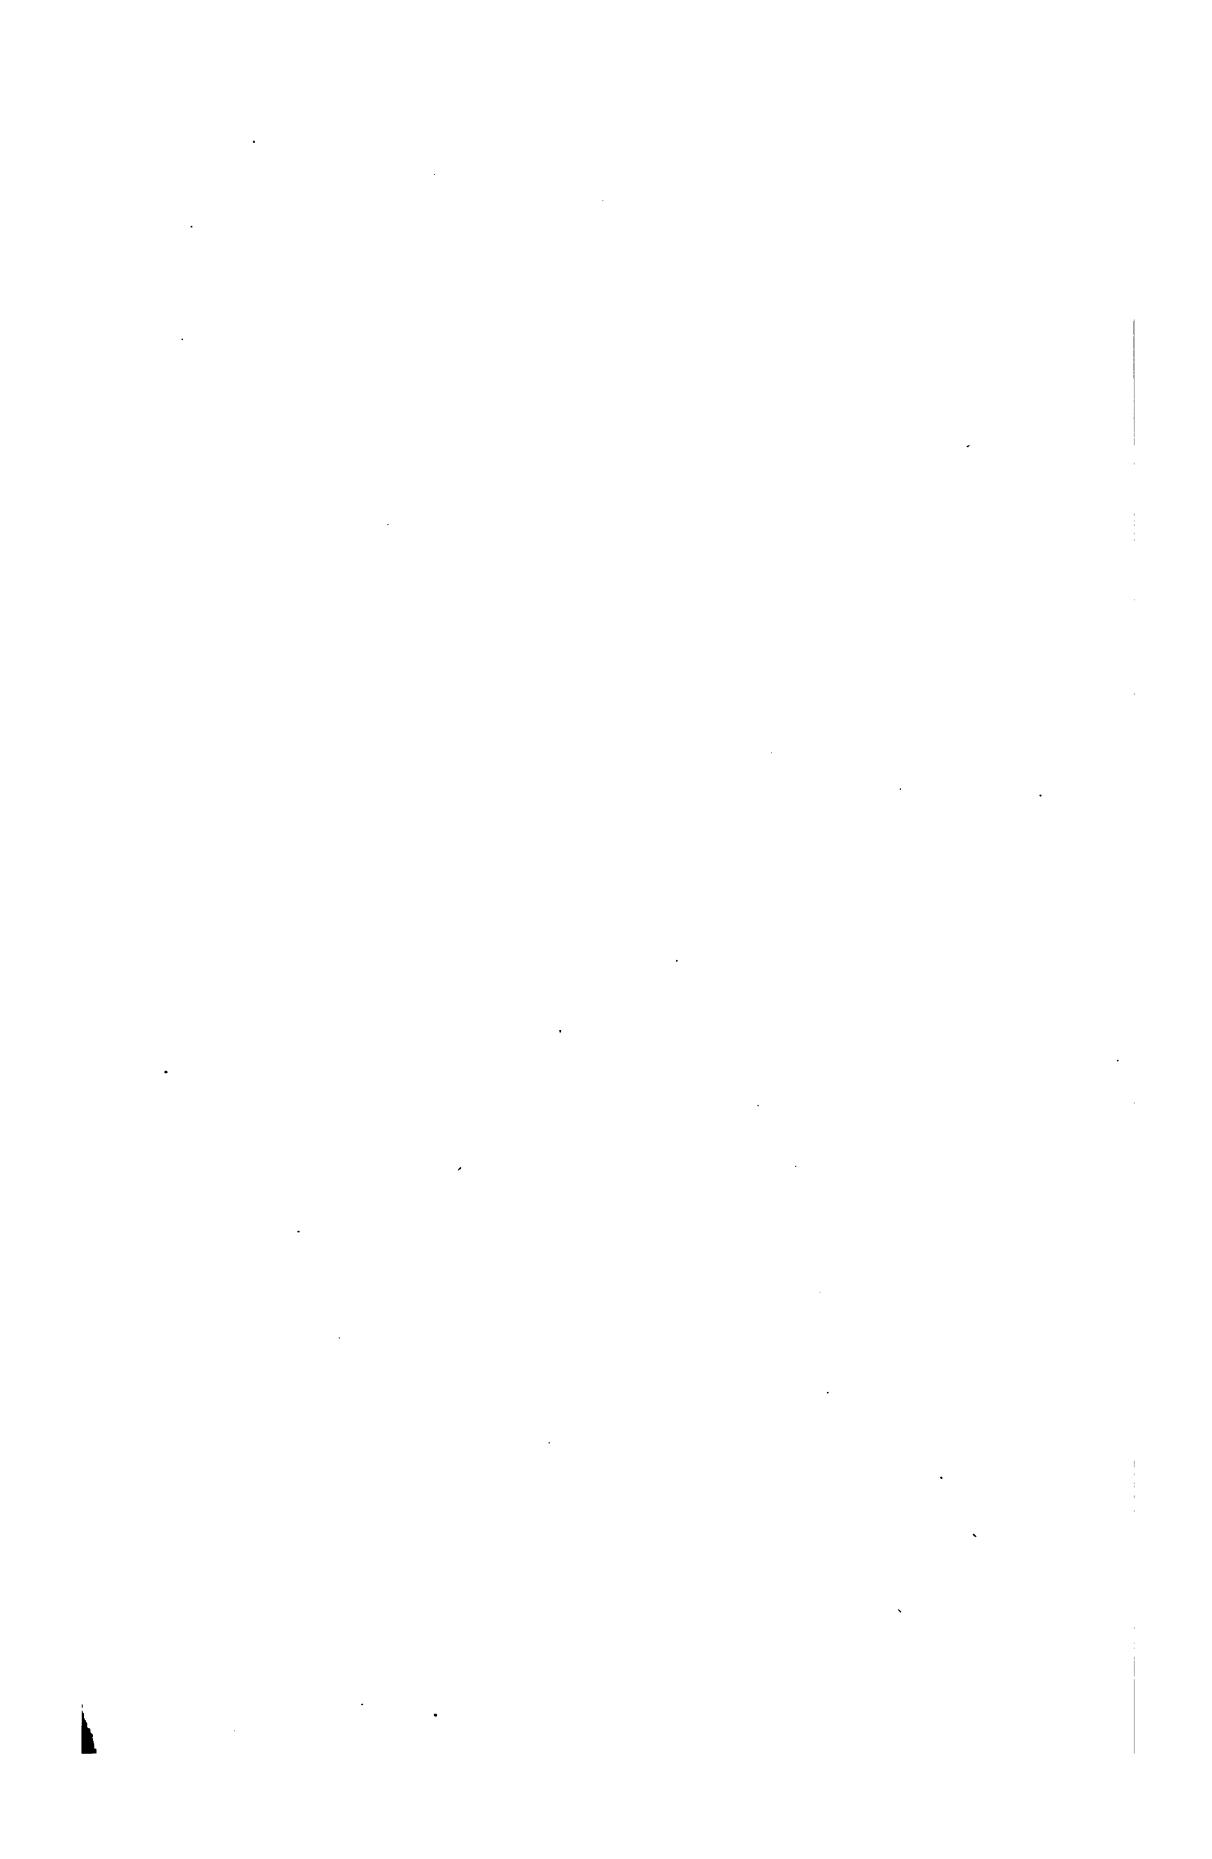

The third and fourth reasons assigned are based upon that part of the order of the State Board which deducted from the amount of county and State school tax to be raised by the city of New Brunswick the whole, $2,341, which was imposed by way of increase upon plaintiff in error. This was clearly erroneous. The city was entitled to no more than its share of such interest. But if the increase was lawful it was a matter of no consequence to the plaintiff in error what was done with it. Other taxing districts which were thereby injured might complain, but a reversal of that part of the order would not benefit the township of East Brunswick.

STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

For these reasons the judgment below, dismissing the writ of certiorari, must be affixed.

3. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved May 8, 1894.

CHAPTER CLV.

An Act concerning the office of receiver of taxes in cities of the second class of this state.

1. BE IT ENACTED by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in all cities of the second class in this state having not less than fifty thousand inhabitants there shall be an officer known as the receiver of taxes, whose duty it shall be to collect all the taxes assessed in such city, who shall be elected by the qualified voters of such cities every second year at the regular election thereof, and who shall hold office for the term of two years and until the election and qualification of his successor, and who shall receive such compensation for his services as the common council, board of aldermen or other governing body of such cities shall by ordinance prescribe.

Tax receiver
office two years.

2. And be it enacted, That the first election hereunder shall take place at the annual or charter election to be held in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, and that the person now holding such office of receiver of taxes in such cities, no matter how designated, shall continue in such office until the election of his successor, as herein provided.

When first election shall be held.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall not affect the existing term of any receiver or collector of taxes who may have been elected by the people.

Shall not affect existing terms.

4. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect on the eighth day of May, anno domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four.

CHAPTER CLXIV.

An Act relating to the assessment of taxes in counties of the first class.

Governing bodies of cities, towns, townships, &c., shall have maps thereof.

Changes in ownership shall be noted on maps, &c.

Deeds for record shall be duly certified by assessing officer.

Proviso.

1. BE IT ENACTED by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in all the cities, towns, townships, villages and boroughs in counties of the first class of this state, it shall be lawful for the governing authorities to have maps made of their several and separate municipalities for the purpose of making the assessment for taxes upon real estate and to describe thereon the said real estate by blocks and parcels.

2. And be it enacted, That when any change is made in the ownership of property in any such city, town, township, village or borough it shall be the duty of the new owner to present his deed or other evidence of title to the officer, officers, assessor, assessors or department having charge of the assessment of taxes therein, that the change of property lines and ownership may be properly noted on the books and maps kept for that purpose.

3. And be it enacted, That no register of deeds, county clerk or other officer whose duty it shall be to record deeds, shall record any deed which conveys any property in any city, town, township, village or borough within counties of the first class, unless it shall be duly certified thereon that the same has been duly presented at the office of the officer, officers, assessor or assessors, or other department having charge of the assessment of taxes, for the purpose of recording or noting such change as may have been made thereby in the property lines and ownership of property; provided, that nothing in this act shall prevent the recording of such deed in case a fee of twenty cents is paid at the time any such deed is deposited for record, to the register of deeds, county clerk or other officer whose duty it is to record the same, upon which payment having been made it shall be the duty of the said register of deeds, county clerk or other officer within five days thereafter, to present such deed or abstract thereof to the officer, officers, assessor or assessors or other department having in charge the assessment of taxes, for the purposes of having such changes of property lines and ownership as may be made thereby recorded or noted.

4. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts Repealer. inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved May 9, 1894.

CHAPTER CLXXVII.

An Act authorizing the issuance of tax arrearage bonds in townships.

1. BE IT ENACTED by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in any township in this state which now has, or which may hereafter have tax arrearages due and unpaid, and which are a lien upon real estate in said townships, which shall in the aggregate equal or exceed the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, it shall be lawful for the township committee of any such township to direct by resolution, which shall recite the amount of such unpaid tax arrearages, that "tax arrearage bonds" shall be issued to an amount not exceeding eighty per centum of the original assessment of taxes so remaining unpaid, and it shall be lawful for the township committee to issue its corporate bonds for such an amount, pledging the whole property of the township for the payment thereof, and especially pledging all receipts from such arrearages of taxes so funded thereby, and such bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the township committee and attested by the township clerk under the corporate seal of the township, and shall bear interest at a rate not greater than five per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, and shall not be sold at less than par, and said bonds may be either registered or coupon, as the said township committee may direct.

When tax arrearage bonds shall be issued.

Amount of limited.

Receipts for arrearages shall be pledged for redemption of bonds.

Interest on bonds limited.

2. And be it enacted, That all moneys received as principal and interest on account of said taxes in arrears, for the arrearage of which bonds shall be issued by virtue of the

CHAPTER CLXXXII.

A Further Supplement to an act entitled "An act for the formation and government of villages," approved February twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one.

Assessor shall be elected.

1. BE IT ENACTED by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the legal voters of any village organized under the act to which this is a further supplement, shall, at the annual election for village trustees, elect an assessor for said village, to serve for the term of three years, who shall be a member of the county board of assessors, and shall possess the same powers and perform the same duties within the limits of said village, as assessors within the several townships of this state and receive like compensation.

2. And be it enacted, That all taxes to be assessed and raised within said village shall hereafter be assessed by the village assessor and not by the township assessor, as heretofore (except as hereinafter provided), and that there shall be apportioned to the village by the proper officers in the manner provided by the act concerning taxes, approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, and the various supplements thereto, the just proportion of the state, county and township or other taxes to be raised from the property or persons liable to taxation within the limits of said village.

Who shall assess all taxes.

3. And be it enacted, That said village assessor shall, on or before the third Tuesday of August in each year, deliver the duplicate of such assessment to the said village trustees, to be by them examined, revised and corrected, and shall attend the meeting of the county board of assessors and take part therein, and shall as required by law for assessors of townships, deliver a duplicate of said assessment to the township collector of the township wherein said village shall be located; provided, that in case said village lies in more than one township, the said assessor shall make a separate duplicate for each township forming a part of said village, whereon shall be shown the assessment of taxes for the property and persons within the limits of each township separately and respectively, and shall deliver said duplicates to the collector of the proper township, which taxes shall be collected by the collector of said township or of each township wherein said village lies, in the manner now provided by law.

trustees.*

Shall attend meeting of county board.

Proviso.

4. And be it enacted, That all proceedings in the nature of appeal from an assessment shall be heard and determined by the commissioners of appeal in and for the proper township in the same manner as appeals from assessments by township assessors are heard and determined, and that all further proceedings for the collection of said taxes shall be in accordance with the general law regulating the collection of taxes in townships.

Trustees shall appoint for the interim.

5. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for the village trustees in any village heretofore organized or hereafter to be organized under said act, to appoint an assessor, who shall hold his office until the next annual election, and the assessor so appointed shall have all the powers and discharge all the duties of the office of assessor in said village as herein provided, and in case any vacancy shall hereafter arise in the office of assessor in said village, it shall be lawful for the said village trustees to fill said vacancy by appointment until the annual election next succeeding the occurrence of said vacancy.

In case of failure to appoint, township assessor shall act.

6. And be it enacted, That in case the village trustees in any village in this state shall fail to make an appointment of a village assessor as herein authorized, then it shall be lawful for the township assessor of the proper township to assess the taxes for the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four in accordance with the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement.

Repealer.

7. And be it enacted, That so much of the act to which this is a supplement as is inconsistent with the provisions of this supplement be and the same is hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved May 14, 1894.

CHAPTER CCX.

An Act to tax intestates' estates, gifts, legacies, devises and collateral inheritance in certain cases.

Bequests to religious, benevolent and charitable organizations excepted.

1. BE IT ENACTED by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That after the passage of this act all property which shall pass by will or by the intestate laws of this state from any person who may die seized or possessed of the same while being a resident of the state, and all property which shall be within this state, and any part of such property, and any interest therein or income therefrom, which shall be transferred by inheritance, distribution, bequest, devise, deed, grant, sale or gift aforesaid, made or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment after the death of the intestate, testator, grantor or bargainor, to any person or persons, or to a body politic or corporate, excepting churches, hospitals and orphan asylums, public libraries, bible and tract societies, and all religious, benevolent and charitable institutions and organizations, in trust or otherwise, or by reason whereof any person or body politic or corporate shall become beneficially entitled, in possession or expectancy, to such property, or to the income thereof, other than to or for the use of the father, mother, husband, wife, children, brother or sister, or lineal descendants born in lawful wedlock, or the wife or widow of a son, or the husband of a daughter, shall be subject to a tax of five dollars on every hundred dollars of the clear market value of such property, to be paid to the treasurer of the state of New Jersey for the use of the state, and all administrators, executors and trustees shall be liable for any and all such taxes until the same shall have been paid as hereinafter directed; provided, that an estate which be may valued at a less sum than five hundred dollars shall not be subject to said duty or tax.

2. And be it enacted, That when any person shall bequeath or devise, convey, grant, sell or give as aforesaid any property, or interest therein, or income therefrom, to a father, mother, husband, wife, children, brother or sister, the widow of a son, or a lineal descendant, during life or for a term of years, and the remainder to a collateral heir of the decedent, or to a stranger in blood, or to a body politic or corporate, the property so passing shall be appraised immediately after the death of said testator or grantor, as the case may be, at what shall then be the fair market value thereof in the manner hereinafter provided, and after deducting therefrom the value of said life estate, or term of years, the tax prescribed by this act on the remainder shall be immediately due and payable to the treasurer of the state of

and other relatives excepted.

Property devised to certain relatives for specified period, and remainder to collateral, heir, or stranger, &c., to be immediately appraised.

Tax on to be immediately due and payable.

STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

Proviso.

New Jersey, and, together with the interest thereon, shall be and remain a lien on said property until the same is paid; provided, that the person or persons or body politic or corporate beneficially interested in the property chargeable with said tax, may elect not to pay the same until they shall come into the actual possession or enjoyment of such property, or, and in that case, such person or persons, or body politic or corporate, shall give a bond to the state of New Jersey in a penalty three times the amount of the tax arising upon personal estate, with such sureties as the chancellor may approve, conditioned for the payment of said tax and interest thereon, at such time or period as they or their representatives may come into the actual possession or enjoyment of such property, which bond shall be filed in the office of the clerk in chancery; provided, further, that such person shall make a full verified return of such property to the chancellor of the state and file the same in the office of the clerk in chancery within one year from the death of the decedent, and within that period enter into such security and renew the same every five years.

Excess of residuary legatees shall be liable to tax.

3. And be it enacted, That whenever a decedent appoints or names one or more executors or trustees, and makes a bequest or devise of property to them in lieu of their commissions or allowances, which otherwise would be liable to said tax, or appoints them his residuary legatees, and said bequest, devises or residuary legacies exceed what would be a reasonable compensation for their services, such excess shall be liable to said tax, and the chancellor or the orphans' court having jurisdiction in the case shall fix such compensation.

All taxes due at death of testator.*Proviso.

4. And be it enacted, That all taxes imposed by this act, unless otherwise herein provided for, shall be due and payable at the death of the testator, grantor or intestate, as the case may be, and if the same are paid within one year, interest at the rate of six per centum per annum shall be charged and collected thereon, but if not so paid, interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum shall be charged and collected from the time said tax accrued; provided, that if said tax is paid within nine months from the accruing thereof, interest shall not be charged or collected thereon, but a discount of five per centum shall be allowed and deducted from said tax; and in all cases where the executors, administrators or trustees do not pay such tax within one year from the death of the decedent, they shall be required to give a bond, in the form and to the effect prescribed in section two of this act, for the payment of said tax, together with interest.

5. And be it enacted, That the penalty of ten per centum per annum imposed by section four hereof for the non-payment of said tax shall not be charged, where in cases by reason of claims made upon the estate, necessary litigation or other unavoidable cause of delay, the estate of any decedent, or a part thereof, cannot be settled at the end of a year from the death of the decedent, and in such cases only six per centum per annum shall be charged upon the said tax from the expiration of such year until the cause of such delay is removed.

When penalty shall not be charged.

6. And be it enacted, That any administrator, executor or trustee having in charge or trust any legacy or property for distribution, subject to said tax, shall deduct the tax therefrom, or if the legacy or property be not money, he shall collect the tax thereon upon the appraised value thereof from the legatee or person entitled to such property, and he shall not deliver or be compelled to deliver any specific legacy or property subject to tax to any person until he shall have collected the tax thereon; and whenever any such legacy shall be charged upon or payable out of real estate, the heir or devisee before paying the same, shall deduct said tax therefrom and pay the same to the executor, administrator or trustee, and the same shall remain a charge on such real estate until paid, and the payment thereof shall be enforced by the executor, administrator or trustee in the same manner that the payment of such legacy might be enforced; if, however, such legacy be given in money to any person for a limited period, he shall retain the tax upon the whole amount, but if it be not in money, he shall make application to the court having jurisdiction of his accounts to make an apportionment, if the case require it, of the sum to be paid into his hands by such legatees, and for such further order relative thereto as the case may require.

Executors, &c., shall sell property to pay tax.

7. And be it enacted, That all executors, administrators and trustees shall have full power to sell so much of the property of the decedent as will enable them to pay said tax, in the same manner as they may be enabled by law to do for the payment of debts of their testators and intestates, and the amount of said tax shall be paid as hereinafter directed.

Shall pay tax to state treasurer.

8. And be it enacted, That any sum of money retained by any executor, administrator or trustee, or paid into his hands for any tax or any property, shall be paid by him, within thirty days thereafter, to the treasurer of the state of New Jersey; and the said treasurer shall deliver a receipt of such payment to the comptroller of the state, whose duty it shall be to countersign the same and return it to the executor, administrator or trustee, whereupon it shall be a proper voucher in the settlement of his accounts, but an executor, administrator or trustee shall not be entitled to credit in his accounts, nor to be discharged from liability for such tax unless he shall produce a receipt so countersigned by the comptroller, or a copy thereof certified by him.

Executors, &c., shall notify state comptroller when property passes to corporation or other than certain relative.

9. And be it enacted, That whenever any of the real estate of which any decedent may die seized, shall pass to any body politic or corporate, or to any persons other than the father, mother, husband, wife, lawful issue, brother or sister, wife or widow of a son, or husband of a daughter, or in trust for them, or some of them, it shall be the duty of the executors, administrators or trustees of such decedent to give information thereof in writing to the comptroller of the state within six months after they undertake the execution of their respective duties, or if the fact be not known to them within that period, then within one month after the same shall have come to their knowledge.

When tax is refunded proportion shall be repaid to legatee, &c.

10. And be it enacted, That whenever any debts shall be proven against the estate of a decedent, after the payment of legacies or distribution of property from which the said tax has been deducted, or upon which it has been paid, and a refund is made by the legatee, devisee, heir or next of kin, a proportion of the tax so paid shall be repaid to him by the executor, administrator or trustee, if the said tax has not been paid to the state treasurer, or by them if it has been so paid.

11. And be it enacted, That whenever any foreign executor or administrator shall assign or transfer any stocks or loans in this state, standing in the name of a decedent, or in trust for a decedent, which shall be liable to the said tax, such tax shall be paid to the state treasurer on the transfer thereof, otherwise the corporation permitting such transfer shall become liable to pay such tax; provided, that such corporation has knowledge before such transfer that said stocks or loans are liable to said tax.

When foreign executions, &c., shall transfer stocks or bonds
tax shall be paid on transfer.

Proviso.

12. And be it enacted, That when any amount of said tax shall have been paid erroneously to the state treasurer, it shall be lawful for the comptroller of the treasury, on satisfactory proof rendered to him of such erroneous payments, to draw his warrant on the state treasurer, in favor of the executor, administrator, person or persons who have paid any such tax in error, or who may be lawfully entitled to receive the same, for the amount of such tax so paid in error; provided, that all such applications for the repayment of such tax shall be made within two years from the date of such payment.

Tax paid erroneously shall be refunded.

Proviso.

13. And be it enacted, That in order to fix the value of property of persons whose estates shall be subject to the payment of said tax, the surrogate or register of the prerogative court, on the application of any interested party, or upon his own motion, shall appoint some competent person as appraiser as often as, and whenever occasion may require, whose duty it shall be forthwith to give such notice by mail and to such persons as the surrogate or register of the prerogative court may by order direct, of the time and place he will appraise such property, and at such time and place to appraise the same at its fair market value, and make a report thereof in writing to said surrogate or register of the prerogative court, together with such other facts in relation thereto as said surrogate or register of the prerogative court may by order require, to be filed in the office of such sur-demeanor.

Penalty.

Ordinary or orphans' court shall have jurisdiction relative to tax.

Delinquents shall be cited to show cause.

14. And be it enacted, That any appraiser appointed by virtue of this act who shall take any fee or reward from any executor, administrator, trustee, legatee, next of kin or heir of any decedent, or from any other person liable to pay said tax or any portion thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in any court having jurisdiction of misdemeanors he shall be fined not less than two hundred and fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars and imprisoned not exceeding ninety days, and in addition thereto the register of the prerogative court or surrogate shall dismiss him from such service.

15. And be it enacted, That the ordinary or the orphans' court in the county in which the real property is situate of a decedent who was not a resident of the state, or in the county of which the decedent was a resident at the time of his death, shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine all questions in relation to the tax arising under the provisions of this act.

16. And be it enacted, That if it shall appear to the register of the prerogative court or surrogate that any tax accru-ing under this act has not been paid according to law, such officer shall issue a citation citing the persons interested in the property liable to the tax to appear before the ordinary or orphans' court on a day certain, not more than three months after the date of such citation, and show cause why said tax should not be paid; the service of such citation and the time, manner and proof thereof, and fees therefor, and the hearing and determination thereon, and the enforcement of the determination or decree shall conform to the provisions of the law for the service of citations now issued by the ordinary or orphans' courts, and the hearing and determination thereon and its enforcement; and the register of the prerogative court or surrogate shall upon the request of any prosecutor of the pleas or state comptroller, furnish one or more transcripts of such decree, and the same may be by them docketed and filed by the county clerk of any county in the state, and the same shall have the same effect as a lien by judgment.

17. And be it enacted, That whenever the state comptroller shall have reason to believe that any tax is due and unpaid under this act, after the refusal or neglect of the persons interested in the property liable to said tax to pay the same, he shall notify the prosecutor of the pleas of the proper county, in writing, of such failure to pay such tax and the prosecutor of the pleas so notified, if he have probable cause to believe a tax is due and unpaid, shall prosecute the proceeding before the ordinary of the orphans' court in the proper county, as provided in section sixteen of this act, for the enforcement and collection of such tax; all costs awarded by such decree to such prosecutor, that may be collected after the collection and payment of the tax to the state treasurer, may be retained by the prosecutor of the pleas for his own use.

State comptroller shall notify prosecutor of pleas of failure to pay tax.

Prosecution shall prosecute for collection.

18. And be it enacted, That the register of the prerogative court, the surrogate and the register of deeds or county clerk of each county shall every three months make a statement in writing, to the state comptroller, of the property from which or the party from whom he has reason to believe a tax under this act has become due since his last report.

Certain officers shall make quarterly statement to comptroller.

STATE BOARD OF TAXATION.

State treasurer
shall pay expense of citation.

19. And be it enacted, That whenever the surrogate of any county, or the register of the prerogative court shall certify to the state comptroller that there was probable cause for issuing a citation and taking the proceedings specified in section sixteen of this act, the state treasurer shall pay, upon warrant of the comptroller, to the proper officials all expenses incurred for the issuing and services of the citation and all other lawful disbursements that have not otherwise been paid.

Comptroller shall furnish
record books,
blank forms, &c.

20. And be it enacted, That the comptroller of the state shall furnish to the register of the prerogative court and to each surrogate a book in which he shall enter, or cause to be entered, the returns made by appraisers, the cash value of annuities, life estates and term of years and other property fixed by him, and the tax assessed thereon, and the amount of any receipts for payments thereon filed with him, which books shall be kept in the office of the register of the prerogative court of the surrogate as a public record, and shall furnish all other forms and blanks necessary for use in the proper enforcement of this law.

Surrogate's fees.

21. And be it enacted, That in addition to the fees above mentioned the fees of the surrogates for each county, for the duties heretofore or hereafter to be performed by them in each estate, under this act, or any act heretofore passed, shall be paid by the state treasurer, upon the warrant of the comptroller, and shall not exceed the following rates: on all sums paid to the state treasurer, not exceeding three thousand dollars, five per centum; if over three thousand dollars, three per centum on such excess.

State treasurer
shall furnish receipt for payments, which may be recorded.

22. And be it enacted, That any person, or body politic or corporate, shall be entitled to a receipt from the state treasurer, countersigned by the state comptroller, for the payment of any tax paid under this act, which receipt shall designate on what real property, if any, of which any decedent may have died seized, said tax has been paid, and by whom paid, and whether or not it is in full of said tax, and said receipt may be recorded in the clerk's office of the county in which said property is situate, in a book to be kept by said clerk for such purpose, which shall be labeled "collateral tax."

23. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed, except so far as herein re-enacted; but nothing in this repealer shall affect or impair the lien of any taxes heretofore assessed, or due and payable, or any remedies for the collection of the same, or to surrender any remedies, powers, rights or privileges acquired by the state under any act heretofore passed, or to relieve any person or corporation from any penalty imposed by said acts; provided, however, that the exception in the first section hereof in favor of churches, hospitals, orphan asylums, public libraries, bible and tract societies, and all religious, benevolent and charitable institutions and organizations, shall be construed and held to apply to any and all bequests, devises and legacies heretofore made, in trust or otherwise, to or in favor of such institutions, or any of them, in all cases where said tax shall not have been paid prior to the passage of this act.

24. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved May 15, 1894.
